Farm Measure

Fight To Block Return To Rigid Supports Opens

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Opponents of the rigid farm price supports which were tacked on to the new billion-dollar soil bank program opened a drive in the Senate today to chop them out.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), senior GOP member of the Agriculture Committee and a supporter of the administration's flexible and lower farm price props, led the attack.

"High rigid supports never have brought prosperity to the American farmer and never will," Aiken told the Senate. "This line of reasoning is completely false."

He was on the losing side when the Democratic-controlled Agriculture Committee voted 8-7 to replace the present flexible supports with rigid props.

Chairman Ellender (D-La) and other advocates of the mandatory supports have been urging their adoption.

All parties to the farm bill battle concede this will be the key test when the final vote comes, perhaps late next week.

Aiken said he is confident the Senate will continue the flexible supports it first approved in 1954, when the Republicans were in command.

As the price supports debate continued, a proposal to refund some 60 million dollars in federal gas taxes to farmers each year advanced a step. This proposal, affecting gasoline used only on farms, was recommended by President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson. It already has won approval of the House and today the Senate Finance Committee sent it on to the Senate with minor revisions.

Aiken, using charts and other data, contended that big boosts in farm prices since 1928 had resulted from war economics.

"Price supports and farm programs had nothing to do with it," he said.

By continuing rigid supports after wartime demand ceased, Aiken said the government had piled up nearly 12 billion dollars in surplus commodities.

Most of this was invested in surplus cotton, wheat, tobacco and

Senators Ask Federal Boost In Old Age Pay

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Forty-six senators joined today in introducing legislation to boost the federal share of old age assistance payments.

Sen. Long (D-La) chief sponsor of the proposal, told the Senate it would increase monthly assistance checks to the aged by at least $5 a month, possibly $10.

Senator Long estimated that Louisiana would benefit $7,571,255 under the proposed amendment. In September, 120,452 persons in the state were receiving old age assistance averaging $51.06.

These payments, designed for the needy, are distinct from the old age insurance system, which is financed by employer-employe contributions.

The average monthly payment over the nation is now $52.50. Each state fixes its own schedule, and the amounts vary widely.

Long said the proposed amend-

Mass Picketing, Violence Banned At Plane Plant

FARMINGDALE, N.Y., Feb. 24 (AP)—Mass picketing and violence were outlawed today in the million-dollar-a-day Republic Aviation Corp. strike—but not in time to prevent a new mob brawl.

State Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Nathan Jr., granted the company a temporary injunction limiting pickets and forbidding them to interfere with nonstrikers.

Nathan limited to 105 the number of pickets the striking International Assn. of Machinists may station at Republic's four Long Island jet plane and guided missile plants. Hitherto, hundreds have picketed the plants.

He allowed the union only 56 pickets at the main plant here. Forty-nine others were allotted to three smaller plants.

Nathan directed that all pickets "conduct themselves peacefully."

For 15 minutes at a hearing yesterday, Nathan watched company movies of picket line violence that has marked the six-day-old wage strike. The union called out 12,000 production workers last Sunday.

Nathan's injunction came too late to prevent a battle at the main plant here between an estimated 200 pickets and several hundred nonstrikers who tried to get to work by train.

One policeman was injured and there was the usual quota of the bloodied and bruised. Fourteen more persons were arrested to send the total arrests since the strike began over the 120 mark.

Morrison Okays Charity Gambling

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 24 (AP) — Mayor deLesseps Morrison said today he supported a recent announcement by police Supt. Provosty Dayries that charity games of chance would be permitted in the city.

Morrison said a 1947 city ordinance exempted these games from the 1903 ordinance making all gambling a crime.

Charity games were shut down several years ago when state police Supt. Francis Grevemberg cracked down on gambling as against state law.

Louisiana Welfare Board Adopts Two Budgets; One Reflects Old Age Pay Hike

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 24 (AP) — The Louisiana Welfare Board today adopted two operating budgets for 1956-57, one providing for present old age assistance maximums, the other with a $5 increase.

The budget committee, composed of members Barton Freeland of Crowley, Laurence M. Williams of New Orleans and Mrs. Bernice Edwards of Ponchatoula, noted the 1955 Legislature directed an increase to $65 per month maximum old age assistance payments "as soon as possible after the operating reserve of the Department of Welfare had been restored to 15 million dollars.

"This floor was reached several months ago," their report said. The welfare surplus Jan. 31 was $17,767,696. The former $55 maximum was boosted to $60 in December.

While the three thought the "increases directed by the Legislature are sound," they found some large question marks.

If sales tax yield continues at the present rate, the report said, some 68 million dollars will be collected. But a 1954 legislative act, which expires June 30, directed that one-fourth of the revenue be turned over for teacher pay raises.

The committee said if this act was renewed, this would amount to about 17 million dollars.

Welfare officials estimate 60 million yearly would be required for the $65 maximum, but only 51 million would be available if the teacher pay act is renewed. A program with the present $60 maximum would cost an estimated 52 million.

About 120,000 are on the old age assistance rolls.

The budget committee raised two other points, both with regard

Cost Of Living Index Declines During January

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 — UP —The government said Friday the cost of living declined slightly in January, bringing a penny-an-hour wage cut for about one million auto and farm equipment workers.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said its consumer price index dropped one-tenth of one per cent between mid-December and mid-January, putting it at 114.6 per cent of the 1947-49 price average.

It was three-tenths of one per cent higher than in 1955, but eight-tenths of one per cent below the record high of 115.8 per cent in October, 1953.

The bureau attributed the January decline to decreases in prices for food, household furnishings, clothing and automobiles.

The one million automobile and farm equipment workers will take their cut in the first pay period of March. They have contracts linking their wages to the government's price index.

The bureau also reported that the average weekly take-home pay for a worker with three dependents totalled $71.92 in January.

This was a record for the month but slightly below the record high set in December.

BLS Commissioner Ewan Clague predicted that the February cost of living index would show either no change or another slight decline.

Clague said the main factor in the January drop was the widespread skid in food prices which reflected sagging farm prices. It was the fourth straight month that food prices have dropped.

How many persons here have a birthday on February 29 — "Leap Year Day?" Its a real novelty.

The National Geographic Society believes roughly that 105,000 persons in the United States will celebrate this quadrennial of their births in 1952, 1948 and earlier in leap year days. Mysteries Studied

Cosmic Blast Of Sun Causes Stir Among Scientists

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 — UP—The greatest bombardment of cosmic rays ever recorded on earth was generated on the sun by a process involving high frequency radio waves, scientists reported Friday.

They said it was the "first clear evidence" science has found that radio waves are involved in the production of cosmic rays, the "mystery" radiations of the universe.

The cosmic storm began raining on the earth Wednesday night after a mammoth "flare" on the surface of the sun that scientists estimated was equal in force to a million hydrogen bombs.

The bombardment disrupted network radio communications between Rome and London and New York for a time and crippled short wave communication on a global scale.

For six desperate hours the British submarine Acheron was believed missing in the frigid waters off Greenland and the admiralty pursued a "maximum effort" search. Then it was learned the sub had not been able to make radio check reports because of the washout.

At the height of the bombardment's intensity cosmic ray penetration at Chicago was 15 times normal, but by Friday had diminished to nearly normal.

Cosmic rays penetrate anything, but experts say they are no danger to human life.

Scientists over the world feverishly studied the cosmic storm, describing it as a rare opportunity to observe the origin and character of the rays.

Fugitive Convicts Caught By Alert Orleans Officers

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 24 (AP) — Heavily-armed police, waiting in downtown New Orleans, today captured two young men wanted for breaking out of a Mississippi jail.

They were identified as James Stewart, 18, and Audry Ladner, 21, both of Lumberton, Miss., and held as fugitives from justice.

Police accused the two of breaking out of jail at Poplarville where they were held for questioning in connection with a holdup.

Stewart and Ladner said they had been arrested in Poplarville Monday for "something we know nothing about."

"We bum together, Stewart and I," Ladner said, "and when the deputies came, they arrested both of us and they told us we were being held as accessories, but never said for what."

Dulles Defends Tank Shipment Before Probers

Also Says Russia Junking 30 Years Of Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today the Russians are junking a 30-year policy of violence and intolerance and "bringing their system and habits closer to ours."

He took the stand that Moscow while still aiming at world combination, has been forced to make a big change in methods because of the "unity, firmness and determination of the free world."

Dulles made the assertions to an overflow audience at a "back to bipartisanship" hearing of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Steutly defending the recent shipment of 18 light tanks to Saudi Arabia, Dulles gave a generally optimistic review of world affairs—highlighted by his statement that the Soviet Union is developing "at this minute in Moscow" a new "creed."

"They have come to the conclusion," he said, "that our methods are better than theirs. They are trying to play our game. I am sure we can beat them at that game. If we can't, then we ought to be ashamed of ourselves."

On the whole, Dulles declared, such a shift in Soviet policy—he called it an "imitation" of American methods—stands to benefit the free world. And he said the Kremlin may have set in motion "irresistible forces" that will foment "the yeast of change" in Russia's government.

Several Democrats, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) among them, voiced pointed skepticism both at Dulles' hopeful view of the world situation and at his defense of the Saudi Arabian tank deal.

Dulles' answer, in effect: They were playing politics. He said he

Passman Predicts Slash In Funds Of State Department

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Rep. Passman (D-La) predicted today that Congress will refuse to give the administration "additional billions of dollars for the State Department to play a game of Russian roulette on a more grandiose scale.

Chairman of a House appropriations subcommittee, which handles the foreign aid money bill, Passman said that the American people are becoming more aware "of the weaknesses of the State Department's effort to walk on both sides of the foreign policy street."

He said in a statement the administration was making enemies of both the Arab states and Israel by "lack of firm policy and decisions and through administrative confusion from the top down."

"The bewildered American taxpayers are no longer going to submit willingly to being further enmeshed in the tangled web of so-called mutual security," Passman said.

Governor-Elect Backs Prelate's View On Issue

But Archbishop 'Pushing Things Too Fast,' He Says

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 24 (AP)—Possible excommunication by their church and disapproval by their new governor today blocked the way of Catholic legislators planning to include parochial schools in Louisiana's segregation laws.

The official newspaper of the New Orleans archdiocese in an editorial approved by Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel warned the lawmakers they may be subject to excommunication if their proposed bills become law.

Incoming Gov. Earl K. Long, pledged to continue segregation, announced "I wouldn't attempt to tell (the Catholic Church) how to run the schools."

Despite these warnings, State Rep. E. W. Gravolet Jr. said "We intend to go ahead with it. Definitely." Gravolet and other sponsors of the proposed legislation are Catholics in the New Orleans area.

"From a religious standpoint," Long said the archbishop "is undoubtedly right" in condemning segregation as morally wrong and sinful. But the incoming governor said Archbishop Rummel "is going too strong" on the issue.

"Maybe he is a little too advanced," said Long. "From a religious standpoint he is undoubtedly right. But at this time it may be the wrong time to push it. I'd hate to have his job right now."

In a pastoral letter read to all masses of the New Orleans archdiocese Sunday, Rummel called racial segregation morally wrong and sinful and gave clear indication parochial schools would be desegregated. Archdiocesan spokesmen have said integration may

However, no one would be called an old fogy who considered it RASH to go over 30 miles an hour under certain circumstances—in a crowded city, for example, or in heavy traffic.

7. LOVELY suits best. To argue signified a difference of opinion. People differ widely as to what they consider LOVELY for loveliness is a matter of the eye. When a woman is LIVELY, however, it

Old age assistance payments are administered under a matching formula.

Under Long's proposal, the federal government would match the first $5 of the state money with $25 of federal funds, instead of $20 as at present.

Above this initial $30, the federal government would match on a 50-50 basis all the additional state contributions up to a total of $65, instead of $55 as in the law now.

Long said the proposal would benefit all of the 2,552,000 persons now on the old age assistance roll. The additional federal cost would be about 184 million dollars a year. Washington now puts 886 million a year into the old age assistance plan.

Dulles Defends

can look at the calendar and see what year it is—election year—and suspects a good many other people do the same.

So the long-drawn-out session may or may not have justified the announced hope of Chairman George (D-Ga) that it would help get foreign policy bipartisanship back on the rails. But it attracted the most attention and the biggest crowd of any committee session in months.

Dulles made it plain he doesn't think the Soviets have given up their aim of getting the whole world under their thumb. And he said the free nations must guard steadily against a Soviet swing back toward a policy of violence.

The 3¾-hour hearing ended on a not-too-bipartisan note.

Dulles was applauded—for the second time by a goodly segment of the audience.

But Sen. Morse (D-Ore) asserted the secretary had presented only "a rosy picture of progress" and declared:

"I don't share that optimism at all."

Dulles conceded, under questioning by Morse, that there has been "some growth of neutralism" in the last year among non-Communist nations.

Morse said the trouble with neutralism is that, "There is always the danger that somebody is going to pull the trigger and we're going to find ourselves in a war."

Dulles was invited to testify in greater detail at a closed session next Tuesday. He said he'd accept if he could sandwich it in between his talks with President Gronchi of Italy and his departure for Karachi and other Asiatic points later in the week.

Much of the session was given over to a discussion of the tanks for Saudi Arabia.

Humphrey suggested there was "a lack of proper planning and understanding" involved in the off-and-then-on arms shipment at a time of threatened war between Israel and its Arab neighbors.

Dulles insisted, however, that the tanks could not be used against Israel—while declaring that Czechoslovakian arms shipments to Egypt, on the other hand, would alter the Middle East arms balance "materially" to the disadvantage of Israel.

Undersecretary Herbert Hoover Jr., appearing with Dulles, took personal and sole responsibility for both the decision to hold up the tank shipment eight days ago and for the subsequent ruling that the weapons could be sent after all.

Hoover, who took the actions while Dulles was vacationing in the Bahamas, said President Eisenhower "fully concurred" in the decisions. And he denied published reports that they were made under pressure from White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

"It was entirely my decision," Hoover said.

Dulles began his testimony with a prepared statement asserting that "during the past six months substantial amounts of Soviet bloc arms have been sent" to the Middle East—that is, to Arab countries. He noted, too, Israel has been calling for U.S. munitions.

"However," Dulles said, "Israel due to its much smaller size and population, could not win an arms race against Arabs having access to Soviet-bloc stocks. It would seem that Israel's security could be better assured, in the long run, through measures other than the acquisition of additional arms in circumstances which might exacerbate the situation."

Dulles wound up with pleas for (1) fresh efforts to settle peacefully the Israel-Arab dispute, and (2) a ban on the injection of the situation into the presidential election campaign. This latter, Dulles said, would only strengthen a view in the Arab states that American actions in the area are keyed to the domestic political situation.

If Arab suspicions of American intentions are heightened by campaign discussions," he said, "the the interests of the United States and her Allies in the Middle East will be endangered."

"And," he added, "It is my belief it would equally endanger the existence of Israel."

The discussions ranged far and wide when senators — including Humphrey and Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark)—began firing questions at Dulles in what turned out to be an exhaustive session.

Dulles won a ripple of applause from a segment of spectators jammed into the hearing room when he declared at one point that the Russians have failed to impose their will on the rest of the world.

The secretary spoke in sharp disagreement with a comment by Fulbright that the Soviet Union seems to be making progress in efforts to "pre-empt the world."

No Punishment Of Caffey Planned For Praising Talk

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Army decided today that no punishment was warranted in the case of Maj. Gen. Eugene Caffey, its judge advocate general, who commended a Georgia congressman's speech favoring racial segregation.

After a formal investigation of Caffey's remarks, the Army announced a finding that while they were "injudicious" they were intended solely "as a complimentary reference to the speaking ability of a third party."

The third party was Rep. Flynt (D-Ga), an old friend of Caffey's.

Flynt, addressing the Georgia Legislature last month, endorsed the interposition movement by which some Southerners hope to preserve public school segregation in the South.

Caffey, in a subsequent speech to the Georgia legislators, alluded to Flynt' stalk and said:

"If I were going to make a speech I would hope to make one like that.

Later when Negro leaders demanded that he be fired or disciplined, Caffey said he was not endorsing anything but was simply paying tribute to Flynt's speechmaking ability.

The Army investigation was conducted by the inspector general, Maj. Gen. David Ogden.

Caffey, a native of Decatur, Ga., is the Army's chief legal officer.

Massive Clouds Of Dust, Prairie Fires Hit Texas

DALLAS, Feb. 24 (AP) — The worst dust storm of the season roared across West Texas and bordering states today, punched by winds of gale velocity. Four persons were killed and others injured as highway visibility dropped to zero in places.

The Weather Bureau said the dust storm extended from Arizona through New Mexico and West Texas to Oklahoma and Kansas.

Three men died as dust blinded drivers of automobiles in a head-on collision in Beaver County, Oklahoma, north of the Texas Panhandle.

They were William Claude Tennison, 57, of Perryton, Tex.; Carl F. White, 20, of Liberal, Kan.; and Elvis A.Flesner, 36, also of Liberal. Jack Voorhees 30, of Perryton, driver of one of the cars, was hospitalized.

A Texoma, Okla., man, Buck Bonds, was killed when he drove his car into the back end of a truck.

An F-84 Thunderjet was hit by a gust measured at 60 miles per hour on landing at Biggs Air Force Base near El Paso. The pilot, Capt. Raymond H. Trapnell of Berstrom Air Force Base, Austin, escaped unhurt by jumping from the plane as it skidded along the runway.

Gusts of wind were measured at 75 miles per hour at Muleshoe, Tex., on the New Mexico border, but averaged in the 30s and 40s. By nightfall the winds had subsided slightly.

Welfare Board Trims Detention Home Requests

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 24 (AP) — The Louisiana Welfare Board today recommended to pay up to $9,000 on furnishings for a juvenile detention home at Monroe.

The recommendation was placed in the board's proposed budget, to be submitted to the Legislature. It came after L. D. Pettit, Ouachita Parish police juror, asked $20,000 in state aid for the project.

The parish has voted a tax to provide $135,000 revenue over the next five years. After it was voted, the parish found it would cost about $20,000 more.

The board suggested that $20,000 could be cut from the cost by leaving off air conditioning and getting the city to provide certain services.

The home, called the first in Louisiana, is being watched by other parishes now planning similar structures.

Silage Is Appetizer; Other Feed Needed

The appetites of dairy cows will be perked up this winter with tempting, juicy salads of sorghum or corn silage, but this good feed cannot do the job alone, according to New Mexico extension dairyman E. E. Anderson. He says that those dairymen who have the impression that sorghum or corn silage is high enough in protein to reduce protein supplements and concentrates are going to be disappointed with results.

In most cases it pays to feed 6 to 8 pounds of hay, per head daily, with silage Anderson points out. If the silage and dry roughage are non - legume, the protein content of the concentrate mixture should be 20 to 21 per cent. If silage is the only roughage fed, almost one-third of the grain mixture should be a high - protein concentrate.

Three Arrested After Thefts At Plumbing House

Three persons have been arrested and will be charged in connection with a series of thefts from a local plumbing supply house which apparently lasted through a period of about two years, according to Monroe Chief of Detectives Hugh L. Tolbert Friday.

The case was broken Thursday by city detectives and Ouachita parish sheriff's deputies who quietly began an investigation of the thefts about two weeks ago.

Those arrested include:

L. L. Hislop, 2405 Nye, West Monroe, who was a clerk in the supply house.

Roosevelt Reed, Sr., 45, of 1611 Wood, Monroe, and Roosevelt Reed Jr., 20, of 802 Ouachita, Monroe who were porters in the store. Both Reeds are Negroes.

All three will be charged with felony theft.

Tolbert said Hislop and the two Reeds will be charged with selling plumbing supplies from the store at various times to a brother of the elder Reed. He said no cash tickets on the sales were made out, and there was no way of telling how much merchandise was taken.

The detective chief said Reed's brother and another employe of the store were also picked up during the investigation and questioned, but released later. He said the other employe admitted allowing the brother to get merchandise on credit, which is against store policy, but said he collected the cash and turned it in later.

About $150 worth of store merchandise was found in the room of the Roosevelt Reed, Sr., Tolbert said.

Both Reeds and Hislop were held in the Ouachita parish jail.

Threatens Arrest For Conductors Who Block Traffic

BOSSIER CITY, La., Feb. 24 — UP—Chief of Police James L. Cathey Jr. today warned that railway conductors who block intersections for more than five minutes during periods of peak traffic will be arrested and jailed.

Cathey said he had received a "flood" of complaints from citizens about traffic being blocked by long freight trains at key intersections.

Mayor Burgess McCranie said he plans to meet with railroad officials in an effort to solve the problem.

Racial Bus Boycott In Montgomery

Northern agitators spearheaded by the Communist-infiltrated National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have inflamed the heavy Negro populace of Montgomery, Ala., into boycotting Montgomery City Lines buses in protest against segregated seating.

The boycott, highly organized and highly obeyed, has lasted for seven weeks.

This dramatic development stemmed from an incident last December 5, when a Negro woman, Rosa Parks, was fined $14 in municipal court for refusing to move to the colored section of a bus.

Montgomery ordinances and Alabama state laws require segregation in all municipal and intrastate vehicles of public conveyance.

The NAACP is out to destroy these ordinances and laws.

Negro leaders in Montgomery have decided to destroy them through mass organized defiance and tremendous economic pressure—a boycott directed against the bus company, on a purely racial basis.

> This is a dangerous weapon, a two-edged sword that quickly could do incalculable harm to the Negro in the South.
> It is a weapon not invoked, so far, by white Southerners opposed to the legislative abuse handed down by a leftwing politically appointed and judicially inexperienced U. S. Supreme Court in the school segregation case.

An Alabama law which is a mild deterrent to conspiring in behalf of a boycott. Under this statute, a Montgomery grand jury the other day indicted scores of Negroes, including at least 25 preachers, as conspirators fomenting the boycott against the bus lines.

The South-hating left-wing radio and television and press and periodicals of the nation, centered in New York, no doubt will pillory Alabama within the next few days, and make it a "whipping boy," alone with Mississippi—so far their shining target.

They will say, in millions of pictures and words, that Montgomery is arresting Negro preachers "men of God."

> They will not say, or intimate, that here perhaps is the first unlawful racial boycott on a mass basis ever organized in America, defying local and State laws and the immemorial customs of the South.
> The Negroes of Montgomery apparently have placed their supreme faith in the NAACP and various clear-thinking organizations and have, in fact, violated city ordinances and State laws, in a gesture of mass defiance, a veritable revolt.

Can the NAACP insure Negroes a living, economic security, jobs, credit, friendship and understanding, education, a place in the sun? Can it become their employer?

This episode is heart-sickening to the thousands of white persons in the South who have labored over the years to help the Negro, and to make his lot lighter, and integrate him into a diverse civilization.

It tends to show that the Negro has progressed little since he came out of Africa as an uncouth savage and is still incapable of individual thought, governed by witch-doctors, following blind and vicious leadership, easily inflamed against the white friends who have stood by him through thick and thin.

> Wherever the Negro has been granted the franchise in the South—and he has it freely in Ouachita Parish of Louisiana—he has abused and defiled that franchise by bloc voting in a slavish pattern, rather than exercising his right as an individual.

The Negro is not powerful enough to take over the South, even with the aid of the NAACP.

The quicker he realizes this fundamental fact, the better for him.

Thoughts In A Lenten Season

In this Lenten season, the thought and prayers of millions of individuals turn toward God. The hopes of the people who keep at least a token abstinence are uplifted, and their eyes are fixed on the forthcoming Easter, the day of resurrection.

Now Easter is not observed [illegible] combination of Christian and Pagan mythologies—the name [illegible] derived from the wild Teutonic tribes of the Black Forests of Germany, signifying the arrival of the April Goddess of Spring, "Eostra" or "Ostara".

Yet its root in German is the word "pesch", from the ancient Hebrew "pe'sach", the Passover—one who passed over.

So, Easter also comes from the old sacred observance of the Hebrews, the Feast of the Passover.

But yet again, more mighty in significance and meaning, dwarfing all other origins and celebrations, it commemorates the triumphant rising of Jesus Christ from the grave.

This latter is the true meaning of Easter to Christian peoples.

Perhaps in this strange trilogy of observances and customs involving Easter, a unity of thought and motivation might be detected.

The spring is the period of rebirth, when life magically renews itself after the winter sleep—and the trees blossom and the flowers bloom, and the bird sing endlessly in the treetops; and the very dawn with its crimson and gold banners in the east becomes a promise of redemption to all who are awake to see its glorious hues.

Here is the visible rebirth of our world after a winter sleep.

Christ, who might perchance have been crucified in the drear December, suffered and died in the early spring, when the fig-trees were leafing and the vineyards were putting forth their tender buds and fruit.

He became the emblem of rebirth, spiritually paralleling the magic of the spring, in all its glorious beauty and its haunting multicolored dawn, a mocking bird singing in the half light—children dancing gleefully in the April rain.

THESE DAYS

By George Sokolsky

Too Much Russia

Many years ago, one of my editors complained that in one week, I had mentioned Russia 11 times. (I do not have the letter here, but that is my memory—maybe he said 12 or 13 times.) Of course, today, if you look at the news as it splatters in from all the world, Russia, Russian satellites, neutralists, etc., etc. compose the bulk of it except when Princess Margaret of England is rumored about.

Actually, there is too much Russia in our lives. It must do something to the gall bladder if not the liver. Maybe that is why Grace Kelly's betrothal to Grimaldi seems so important; at any rate, it is a relief, almost an escape from the Russians. I wonder if Monaco officially is on our side, on Khrushchev's side, or neutral. It does not belong to any of the great international bodies that are preparing to evade war and therefore may have no opinions on the subject. Certainly, Grace Kelly will not be as American as Hollywood, if that is Americana, which I understand it is becoming. In any event, [illegible] to talk about Communism than it is about Khrushchev's [illegible] speech I shall one day read out of sheer duty to my readers.

Ike's picture, playing golf, did me a world of good and I stomped indoors about the Russians. I do not play golf, so I do not know how much exertion is involved, but I do can play golf. I can walk Joe Louis I get out of here, and it stands to reason that there is more exercise walking an intelligent dog than hitting a little white ball that cannot answer back even if it wants to.

But I still cannot figure out what the picture looking like hitting this small ball proves. Each one has [illegible] own view of the matter. The Khrushchev visit may mean that he and Ike may wangle an invitation to come to Washington to make a speech against Princess Margaret. He could say about her that she has not ended colonialism in Bermuda which is a wonderful place for Englishmen to go to who do not want to pay income taxes. [illegible] of Khrushchev's speeches make that much sense.

But here I am going back to the Russians when I actually sat down to snub them, not to mention them at all. I shall therefore talk about candidates. All the Republican aspirants, except Bill Knowland, are now trying to give the impression that they never aspired at all, that they got their names and pictures in the newspapers by accident, that none of them had press agents or managers, and now, after the Case fiasco, no one will have campaign funds anymore but will borrow for their campaign expenses from their wives. The Republicans all have alibis now that Ike can play golf.

The Democrats are not so fortunate. They have to have a candidate, if they are to remain a party and no matter how hard Mr. Stevenson tries, he is not making the grade because it is now clear that he has to run against Ike and that is not so pleasant, as those of us who supported Bob Taft discovered.

So soon it will be discovered that the Democrats might listen, after all, to that astute master of the fine Italian band, Carmine DeSapio, who seems to be set on rebuilding the Democratic Party so that it does not become a socialist party in 1960. The real fight will come in 1960 as all the ambitious young men realize. He, Carmine, will have his hands full, shooing off the Americans for Democratic Action, the National Committee for an Effective Congress, the Fund for the Republic and other agencies designed to steal his party for the Socialists.

On that subject, I shall have to read Khrushchev's seven-hour speech, because he seems to have had a lot of unorthodox things to say about the Socialists, he not hating them as much as Lenin or Stalin did. Maybe that is how he intends to conquer the United States without war which is what he said he intends to do. So I shall have to read the whole seven-hour speech to find out if he really said it.

Not Much You Can Do For Troublemaking Mother

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: When I was very small, my mother left my father for another man. Over the years, we children all grew up, made something of ourselves, Dad died and his successor in my mother's affections also passed away. Mom is now alone, aged, with no money. Each of us children (there are four) has had her in turn, only to reap trouble for our pains. She gossips to our neighbors, often falsely, interferes and causes dissension within our households.

I am particularly vulnerable to her troublemaking. I am a divorcee, with a small son, and no one in this town knows my secret. Mother threatens to disgrace me (as she puts it) unless I give in to her on every count. The divorce wasn't my fault, I'm trying to keep it from my child, and want only to devote my life to being a good mother.

If my mother spoils things for me in this town, I am going to move away and leave her, even if it means putting her in an institution. Would I be justified? Margery

ANSWER: Your mother certainly lacks every attribute of a good parent and doesn't deserve to be treated as one. From the facts in your letter, it seems every member of the family has tried to give her a good home, in spite of the fact that she wouldn't stay to provide the same for her own children. There's nothing you can do in the face of her failure to co-operate but put her in a home. Be sure she is well treated there, and your responsibility is ended.

You have a second problem that needs help, too. Why try to keep your divorce a secret? It's bound to come out sooner or later; in the meantime you are racked with apprehension. You can't keep running away forever! If the divorce wasn't your fault, you surely have no reason to feel shame.

Talk the matter over with the minister of your church and I'm sure he'll assure you that it's better to live the truth than to be in constant fear of its discovery.

SNEAKY HUSBAND

DEAR MISS DIX: Thirty-five years ago when my husband and I were sweethearts, he "sneaked" around and went with other girls. Now that we have been married all these years and he has made me a wonderful living, he still "sneaks" around. What answer would you have given me about marrying him had I written for your advice then? A. B. C.

ANSWER: I would have advised against the marriage, but then I prefer a faithful husband to a good living. Do you?

DEAR MISS DIX: We have asked a couple we know to dinner several times. In the six years of their marriage they have never returned the invitation. They always seem glad to see us, but never ask us over. Shall I take it for granted, at last, that they really aren't our friends? Puzzled

ANSWER: The girl may be shy about entertaining. Perhaps you are such an excellent hostess that she's afraid to compete with you. Do they ask other couples for dinner? If not, I'd take a chance and continue the friendship on its present one-sided basis. Try to fathom the reason for their social attitude; maybe you can help them.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX, care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

Miss. Senators Endorse Plan To Vote Amendments

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 24 (AP)—A Mississippi Senate committee today endorsed proposals to revise the state's 1890 constitution and add prohibition and tax amendments to the present version.

The call for a new constitution came from Sen. Kelly Hammond of Columbia, chairman of the constitution committee which recommended passage of his bill.

Enactment of Hammond's measure would authorize the election on July 17 of two delegates from each county to take part in a constitutional convention. Each delegate would be paid $25 daily while at work, a total of $4,100 daily for all 164 delegates.

The convention would start to work in Jackson on Sept. 10, but no date was set for it to complete its revision.

A statewide election would be held in not less than three months nor more than four months after the new constitution is drafted. The revision would be adopted if favored by a three-fifths majority of the qualified electors.

A Senate concurrent resolution approved by Hammond's committee would write prohibition into the current constitution through an amendment banning the manufacture, transportation and sale of all intoxicants stronger than four per cent.

The amendment also would make it unlawful to tax such liquor. This would eliminate the 10 per cent "black market" tax imposed on the sale of illegal merchandise. Liquor also is subject to a five per cent tax although the legal state sales tax is three per cent.

Gov. J. P. Coleman wants the black market tax repealed but the House Ways and Means Committee recently rejected a bill designed for that purpose.

The Senate Constitution Committee approved a concurrent resolution calling for a freeze on the sales, gasoline, income and inheritance taxes at their present levels.

Both amendments would be voted on in the November general election.

Broken Axle Blamed For Fatal Train Derailment

ODENTON, Md., Feb. 24 (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad said today an axle which unaccountably broke caused the derailment of the Embassy passenger train in which five persons were killed and more than 100 injured.

The 14-car train was speeding at 80 miles per hour over the flatlands between Baltimore and Washington when the accident happened yesterday. Nine cars were derailed. Three of them overturned.

J. A. Schwab, regional manager for Pennsylvania Railroad, said normal lubricating procedures had been followed and no defect in the bearing had been found.

"The roller bearing journal where the axle broke was inspected for oil level and lubrication in Sunnyside Yard, New York, on Feb. 19, just four days before the accident, and was checked in normal inspection in Washington before the train left last evening," Schwab said.

"... Our present conclusion is that the accident resulted from a fracture in the axle itself, which type of failure is extremely uncommon," he added.

Four of the injured were still on the critical list tonight.

Railroad officials joined investigators from the Maryland Public Service Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission in the search for the cause.

The train was bound from Washington to New York. It cracked up about 5:22 p.m. shortly after passing the Odenton tower.

Most of the passengers were from the New York-New Jersey and Baltimore-Washington areas.

The dead were Alexander Nero, 22, Trenton, N.J.; Thomas Reed Johnson, 35, and Alfred B. Haupt, both of Baltimore; Sydney Jackson, 50, New York City, and Edward Q. Holloway, 63, Wilmington, Del. Jackson was a train porter and Holloway a flagman.

On the critical list were Michael Buddy, Trenton, N.J.; Jerry Tucillo, Trenton, N.J.; Elliott Sturgis, Gibson Island, Md., all at Ft. Meade Army Hospital, and Niles M. Markusson, 74, of Jersey City, N.J., at Anne Arundel General Hospital, Annapolis, Md.

Bar Association Studies Justice In United States

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 24 (AP) — The American Bar Assn. is taking a close look at the way justice is handed out to criminals in the United States.

The National Assn. of County and Prosecuting Attorneys today listened to a description of a pilot study on the administration of criminal justice.

John A. Pettis Jr., assistant director of the study, said work began this month in Wisconsin, Kansas and possibly a third state also will be studied in the three-year program.

The over-all project will cover 17 states in five years. The Ford Foundation has granted $200,000 for the first year of study.

Pettis, former deputy district attorney of Alameda County, Calif., said the big problem at present is to select what aspects of criminal justice to study.

"We start by taking crime as a fact and then study all the factors relating to it insofar as the administration of justice is concerned," said Pettis, who lives in Oakland, Calif.

"What we're aiming for is to arrive eventually at a code of minimum standards and procedures," added Pettis.

The project is under the direction of Arthur H. Sherry, professor of law at the University of California.

Jury Votes To Keep Registrar

VIDALIA, Feb. 24 —(Special) — The Concordia parish police jury voted eight to three not to remove Grover Burke, registrar of voters, from office and then ordered an immediate purge of the parish voting rolls.

In the compromise move, Burke was instructed to remove all illegal voters from the rolls of the parish. He was instructed to seek legal advice in matters pertaining to registration from Nathan Calhoun and W. Clyde Falkenheiner, of Vidalia, who will act as assistant district attorneys.

The purge was ordered following a proposal to remove Burke from office which was made at a meeting of the police jury on Wednesday.

The action came at a meeting of the police jury which was attended by a crowd of six or seven hundred people, including fifty or more high school students of the parish.

Because of the intense interest in matters, which were brought out the meeting was held upstairs in the courtroom, instead of in the police jury room downstairs where meetings are usually held.

The crowd which filled both floors of the courtroom and overflowed into the corridors of the building eagerly applauded when a resolution was presented by W. W. Kelly, member of the police jury from Ward 7 (Lake St. John) asking that the police jury pass a resolution urging that Grover Burke be relieved of duty.

Kelly's move to relieve Burke from office was presented after an hour long meeting in which U. B. Evans, of Haphazard plantation, stated that the laws of the state of Louisiana had not been complied with.

Evans stated, on taking the floor, that he had been asked by a number of persons, present at the meeting to present the facts.

The large attendance included persons from all over the parish, who had heard news of the meeting and what was to transpire "by word of mouth."

Evans said that the laws of the state had not been complied with in regards to registration of Negroes in Concordia parish.

He said that some years ago some literate Negroes had been legally registered after meeting the requirements, but since that time anyone who filled out a blank, furnished for the purpose had been considered a legally qualified voter.

"That is not the law," said Evans, adding "the blank is very simple." He said that he believed that about 90 per cent of the Negroes registered in recent years had done so illegally.

Negro Indictments

NAACP Official Claims 'Soviet Methods' Used By Alabama Grand Jury

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 24 (AP) — Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said tonight the indictment of 100 Montgomery, Ala., Negro leaders under a state anti-boycott law was "the Soviet communism method."

"Here we have the police knocking on doors and taking men away," he said. "Here we have mass arrests. Here we have a grand jury delivering a general lecture on observance of the segregation line. Precisely like the Communists."

Wilkins spoke at the southeast regional convention of NAACP. In his prepared speech he criticized Thomas Waring, editor of the Charleston News and Courier, for a recent Harper's Magazine article on the race situation in the South, attacked the white citizens council for "creating the climate in which violence has occurred;" and said "United States senators go about the country preaching lawless defiance of courts and constitutional government without sharing the responsibility for the violence that may ensue."

Discussing the Montgomery bus boycott by Negroes, Wilkins said "Montgomery whites claim not to be able to understand 'their' Negroes. Well, I'll be glad to explain. 'Their' Negroes are sick and tired of segregation, of the insults and mistreatment and daily humiliations. It is that simple. Their cups have run over.

"The grand jury to the contrary, there was no 'outside interference' at Montgomery. Negro ministers there took the lead and guided their flocks toward dignity. The entire nation has been inspired by their quiet Christian courage."

Rebel Flags

Chicago Facing 'Bombardment' By Southerner

OXFORD, Miss., Feb. 24 (AP) — The South will rise again — up into the air over Chicago Monday when a southern disc jockey drops 25,000 Confederate battle flags.

Allen English, record spinner for an Oxford radio station (WSUH), planned to leave here in time to drop the red, white and blue paper emblems over Chicago's loop and lakefront areas about noon.

In Washington, a spokesman for the Civil Aeronautics Administration said today the CAA had no objection to the flight as long as no safety rules are involved.

English, 27, conceived the idea after Mississippi-born disc jockey, Al Benson showered copies of the U. S. constitution on Jackson, Miss. last Wednesday.

Benson, 48-year-old Negro who now works for a Chicago radio station, hired two white men to make the air drop "to wake up the citizens of Mississippi because their leaders are leading them in the wrong direction." He pulled out of the trip at the last minute on grounds Mississippi authorities had not answered his requests for protection.

A Mississippian's working knowledge of the U. S. constitution is as good as that of Benson's or almost anyone else, English remarked. He said that his flight of retaliation has two purposes:

First, the Confederate battleflag "is still, and will for some time to come, remain an honored symbol of the great Southland."

Secondly, he doubts if the battleflag is familiar to the average Chicago native who might like to have one as a souvenir.

Governor-Elect

come sometime after September 1956.

In the face of the letter, four legislators asked that private schools be included in Louisiana's segregation laws, which were declared unconstitutional by a special three-man federal court last week.

In its editorial, Catholic Action of the South said the proposed laws were "so grave that under certain conditions the offenders automatically incur excommunication."

Archbishop Rummel later issued a statement that he had approved the front page editorial but did not consider it a threat of excommunication.

". . . The laws would directly interfere with the jurisdiction of the church in its pre-eminent mission of education . . . The end result could well be complete state control of religion," the editorial stated, adding:

"If the laws were put into effect, automatic excommunication would be incurred by those who worked for and voted for their passage and by those who appeal to lay authority for their application, such as persons who besought sheriffs, chiefs of police, or courts to put provisions of the laws into effect."

The editorial, signed by editor M. F. Everett, warned: "Control of education of youth and suppression of religious activities have always been among the first steps toward a dictator state."

Excommunication is the severest punishment a Catholic can receive from his church. The excommunicated person is barred from the sacraments, including communion and last rites.

Long, a Baptist who will take office May 15, said he is inclined at present to oppose any legislation that would force the parochial schools to continue segregation. Long is the younger brother of the late Huey P. Long, who provided free buses and text books to parochial schools when he was governor over 20 years ago.

The incoming governor repeated his campaign pledge to keep segregation in Louisiana.

"I believe I can maintain segregation in Louisiana for the four years I am governor," he said. "I just have enough confidence I can do as much toward handling the situation as anybody else. I don't believe we are going to maintain it dogging it and raising hell."

Two of the legislators who suggested the legislation were defeated Tuesday in their bids for renomination by the Democratic Party, equivalent to election in Louisiana. The others are Rep. Gravolet and Rep. C. Cyril Broussard.

Broussard declined comment but Gravolet said:

"I am primarily a representative of the state of Louisiana and I don't see how anybody can influence my vote for any legislation whatsoever.

"If excommunication goes into effect, I don't see how any Catholic can be elected to public office."

Sen. W. M. Rainach, chairman of Louisiana's Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation, said the Legislature, which meets in May, will be more concerned with the feelings of the majority of Catholics in the state than with those of any individual.

He termed the excommunication warning "contrary to the feelings and wishes of the overwhelming majority of the Catholic people."

Louisiana's segregation laws, passed in 1954 to circumvent the U.S. Supreme Court ban on separate schools for whites and Negroes, excluded parochial and private schools at the request of Archbishop Rummel.

College Delegates Attend Meetings With Wide Scope

Northeast State's Commerce and Agriculture Departments have been represented at recent professional meetings on state and regional levels.

W. L. Perkins, head of the Commerce Department, has been in Baton Rouge, where a three-day meeting closed Friday for the Louisiana State Management Conference.

Dr. Jasper G. Hammons, associate professor of agronomy, attended the southern section of the American Society of Agronomy meeting and the fifty-third annual convention of the Southern Agricultural Workers held in Atlanta, Ga.

The Louisiana State Management Conference was sponsored by the College of Commerce of Louisiana State University for business administration department heads and deans of business schools in this section of the south.

Chief aim of the conference is the development of more effective personnel relations in Louisiana and surrounding states. The executive committees of the organization attempts to assist in achieving this objective by arranging programs in which timely subjects are considered by business leaders in the state and nation.

Subjects of some discussions were: "The Problem of Promoting the More Able Employee," "How Working Conditions Affect Morale," "Cooperation in Industry," and "Women in Industry."

The agriculture meetings attended by Dr. Hammons brought together workers from the various branches of agriculture to review recent findings in agricultural research. This is the primary reason for the annual sessions, Dr. Hammons said.

Though the research material dealt with southern agriculture, the approximately 1,200 persons who registered for the convention represented thirty-four states and two foreign countries.

Man Slays Wife, Turns Gun On Self

FORT WORTH, Feb. 24 — UP —C. H. Ellis Jr., 35, walked into the kitchen of his Fort Worth home Friday, shot and killed his wife, eased her body tenderly to the floor and fired a bullet through his heart.

A neighbor, Mrs. D. W. Dollar, who is six months pregnant, watched the murder and suicide. She had been drinking coffee with Mrs. Ellis, 31.

Mrs. Dollar told officers that the couple's three children — two girls and a boy—were in school at the time. She said Ellis entered the kitchen without warning.

"He walked up to his wife as if he were going to kiss her," Mrs. Dollar said. "Mrs. Ellis was at the sink, washing a cup."

"He pulled a pistol from his jacket pocket and said: 'You are my wife and always will be'. Then he fired into her chest."

Mrs. Dollar said Ellis caught his wife's body as she fell and eased her onto the floor. "Without a word, he lay down near her. His head was a few inches from hers. He pointed the gun at his heart and fired once," she said.

Detectives D. S. Harris and W. H. Bryant said Mrs. Ellis had telephoned her mother Thursday night and said she was going to leave her husband.

Court records showed Mrs. Ellis had filed a divorce suit in 1954, but had failed to prosecute it. They were married May 30, 1947.

Ouachita Senior Wins High School Oratory Contest

Richard Wainwright, 17-year-oll Ouachita High School senior, won the American Legions annual oratorical contest for high schools of Monroe last night and thus gained the privilege of representing Monroe in higher American Legion-sponsored oratorical competition.

According to the panel of judges, Wainwright won by a very narrow margin over Larry McCarthy, 17-year - old St. Matthews High School senior and the only other participant in the contest, which featured prepared and extemporaneous speeches based upon the Constitution of the United States.

Wainwright will compete in the parish-wide American Legion contest next Friday night provided contestants are offered by Ouachita schools located outside the city of Monroe. The contest is held on a nation-wide basis with a national winner to be determined in the end.

In his prepared address, Wainwright said, "The Constitution is the sum total of the ideals of free people of all ages applied in a practical way." Comparing it with the flaming torch carried by relay teams in ancient Greek games, he stressed that it is the duty of American citizens to pass the flaming torch — the Constitution — to each succeeding generation. He likened the historic struggles of American citizens to keep the Constitution alive to the difficulties faced by the ancient Greek runners in keeping the relay torches burning, and in conclusion urged: "Keep the torch alive for the next generation."

In his prepared speech, McCarthy stressed the unique rights Americans enjoy under The Constitution and said: "Too often, we take these rights for granted." Giving practical ways Americans can defend their Constitution, he urged careful exercise of the privilege to vote, and then said "Simply impress upon your friends that we are lucky, ever so lucky, to be Americans."

Time In—For A Lift

By Raymond Thornburg

A report, from across the U.S.A., on religion in the wark-a-day world.

Irwin W. Tucker runs a filling station on Highway 77 at Wynnewood, Oklahoma.

One night Tucker and his wife, Thelma, watched Ruth Hussey playing the Virgin Mary on a television program. They were impressed by one scene showing a family group around an altar. The next day Tucker and his wife built a family altar of their own.

Two days later he told his employees at the filling station about the family altar.

"We could use a little meditation spot right here in the filling station, Mr. Tucker," one employee replied.

Tucker and his six employees (four white and two Negro) cleaned and repainted a small room in the filling station.

Today when a driver stops by Tucker's station, he finds the sanctuary with a Star of David, a statue of Christ, and a crucifix side by side. No one disturbs him. If business is brisk, an attendant will move his car.

Travelers can find other such places scattered about the country.

Logan International Airport in Boston has a chapel where passengers can stop before a flight for a moment of prayer and meditation. Sunday morning services are now held in a chapel at Idlewild Airport in New York.

A "Chapel of the Highways" is under construction outside of Rocky Mount, North Carolina. The Biltmore Hotel in New York City has a chapel for transients, while the people of Shreveport, Louisiana, financed a prayer santcuary in the new Texas Eastern skyscraper.

Several years ago, Edmund T. Price, president of Solar Aircraft of San Diego, called his employees together. "I would like to see a chapel, representing the great religious faiths, here on company property. If you employees would like such a chapel, Solar will donate the space, the architect and the building materials, but you'll have to build it with your own hands and hearts — and I'll help you."

Price had one specification: If the employees wanted the chapel, at least 50 must express the desire in writing. Hundreds wrote in to say they did. "Perhaps the chapel will generate a renewal of spiritual faith, productive honesty and pride of workmanship," wrote one worker.

On Christmas Eve, 1952, the land was dedicated. Since then scores of employees, on their own time, have wielded picks, shovels and hammers. The first service in the new chapel was held on Christmas, 1953.

In other industries the move is on. Recently, several large laundry firms throughout the country gathered in Crestview, Florida.

It wasn't a business convention. They came for the dedication services of the Webb Chapel, a modern sanctuary constructed for employees of Charles Webb's Laundry in Crewtview. Today the chapel is used for morning devotions, held by 20 women employees.

Another man who believes in this idea is Bill Blumert, who opened his new Pacific Painting and Decorating Company in Berkeley, California, recently. At the opening ceremony, prayer was substituted for champagne. Both union and paint company officials were surprised to find they liked the idea.

Several years ago, labor-management pay contract discussions at a Toledo oil company were about to open. Cyril Babione of the Oil Workers International Union (C.I.O.) suggested they start with prayer.

The men repeated together: "Oh God of liberty and justice, consecrate the deliberations of this body to the achievement of the common good. . .Guide us by Thy infinite wisdom. . ." It was the first time prayer ever opened Toledo Industrial negotiations.

And so the great spiritual awakening, rumbling from coast to coast, is giving new vitality to American democracy.

In Baltimore at Pier 6 of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, there is a force at work that may do a great deal to end corruption on the docks.

When men in work clothes gather for their daily meeting, Charles Lee, a big friendly Negro, whose job is that of a sweeper, stands before them. They bow their heads. Humbly Lee asks God's blessings on his fellow workers, strength for the work that must be done and guidance for the undertaking they have met to discuss.

"I believe in a man calling on the Lord when he needs him," says Charles Lee. "During the day when I feel burdened, I'll steal away for a minute or two to talk things over with Him."

What does it all add up to?

Responsible leaders from both management and labor throughout the country realize now more than ever that the group, or the crew, or the machines aren't all-important. Instead, our whole way of life is centered on the idea that personally, each one of us must be ministered to; every person has a native hunger for God that must be satisifed.

Tomorrow — Mrs. Ralph Dark, mother of New York Giant Star Alvin Dark, tells how her famous son's faith and prayer have helped his baseball career.

9 Members Beaten

State Legislative Council To Face Major Overhaul

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 24 (AP) — The 18-member Legislative Council faces apparent reorganization after election results wiped out half its membership.

The council, research arm of the Legislature, was organized by the 1952 Legislature. It currently is headed by Dr. Emmett Asseff.

Five Senate members, including Lt. Gov. C. E. Barham, and four House members failed to win another term.

But even the nine returning members could be ousted. The 1952 act establishing the council provides the membership, eight from each house plus both presiding officers, is to be chosen by the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the House.

Lether Frazar will replace Barham and the House speaker probably will be chosen by Gov.-designate Earl K. Long.

Normally the appointive members occupy important positions on Key House and Senate committees, with only one member in each house named from each congressional district.

In addition to Barham, Senate members who will not be back include, Sens. Clyde Caillouet of Thibodaux, Charles Duchein of Baton Rouge, Dayton McCann of Effie and David H. MacHauer of New Orleans.

On the House side, Reps. J. Alfred Begnaud of Lafayette, Kenneth H. Cagle of Lake Charles, F. E. Hernandez of Leesville and Albert B. Koorie of New Orleans will not return.

The other members of the present council are Sens. Robert A. Ainsworth of New Orleans, W. M. Rainach of Summerfield, Guy Sockrider of Lake Charles and James Sparks of Monroe, and Reps. C. C. Aycock of Franklin, present House speaker, J. Thomas Jewell of New Roads, C. Cyril Broussard of New Orleans and Jasper K. Smith of Shreveport.

Passman Blasts American Policy In Middle East

Increasing "evidences of chaos" in the international dealings of the Administration were viewed today by the chairman of the House Foreign Operations Appropriations Subcommittee as resulting in the American people "becoming more keenly, and painfully, aware of the weaknesses of the State Department's effort to walk on both sides of the foreign-policy street."

Louisiana Fifth District Congressman Otto E. Passman, whose Subcommittee handles the foreign-aid money bill, pointed to the seething Middle East as "an example" of his contention. He charged that the Administration was "making enemies" of both the Arab states and Israel by "lack of firm policy and decisions and through administrative confusion from the top down the line."

Representative Passman asserted the United States could not continue indefinitely to "scatter and dissipate our wealth and weaken our defenses in a futile effort to buy friendship."

He expressed confidence that Congress was going to refuse this year to provide requested "additional billions of dollars for the State Department to play a game of Russian roulette on an even more grandiose scale."

"The bewildered American taxpayers are no longer going to submit willingly to being further enmeshed in the tangled web of so-called 'mutual security,'" he declared.

The Administration is asking Congress this year for nearly $5 billion in new money for foreign aid. The appropriation last year was $2.7 billion—cut to that figure from $3.2 billion by Congressman Passman's Subcommittee.

Torch-Carrying Mouse Reported Near Disaster

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 24 — UP— A white mouse is carrying on a torrid love affair with a boa constrictor here but the wise money is betting the mouse's days are numbered.

It's all happening in a science laboratory at Boise Junior College. The mouse has been in a cage with the boa, called Conga, a week and is crazy about his new mate.

He frolics about the snake, runs over its coiled body and kisses it on the head. The boa just sticks out its tongue.

Dr. Donald Obee, director of the college's live science division, says the snake is not very active because he's shedding his skin. Conga hasn't eaten for six weeks.

"When he sheds his skin he also sheds the lining of his eyes and is blind for awhile," Dr. Obee says. "This is enough to slow down one's appetite."

Obee thinks Conga may end this romance in one gulp when the boa's shedding season is over. The doctor says boas normally like to feast on mice — both gray and white.

Although the first eyeglasses often were regarded as products of the devil, at a later time, artists often pictured the apostles as wearing spectacles.

Merchant Fleet Modernization Plan Outlined

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4 (AP)—A. R. Linter, chairman of the Committee of American Steamship Lines, said today four of 15 major United States steamship lines have accepted bids totaling 900 million dollars in a program to streamline and replace the merchant fleet.

Linter, of Seattle, Wash., president of the American Mail Lines, Ltd., said officials of the 15 steamship companies set in motion a plan to space the $2,500,000,000 peacetime revamping program over 10 or 12 years.

The CASL members met aboard the passenger-cargo ship Del Sud to discuss the spacing problem and progress reports on the program.

The vast rebuilding program is based on a 1936 congressional ruling that steamship lines must replace their fleet every 20 years to be eligible for government subsidies.

The CASL chairman said attacks on the Cargo Preference act, or 50-50 law, were spearheaded by foreign shipping interests wanting to increase their own freight.

The law assures the U.S. Merchant Marine the right to carry at least half of this country's overseas aid cargo, if its ships are available at a reasonable cost.

He termed the attacks on the law a serious threat to the U.S. Merchant Marine.

Miss Biedenharn Discusses Modern Music At Coterie

The Musical Coterie met for their regular meeting in the recital room of Northeast Louisiana State College with Miss Gertrude Sandrock as hostess.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Grayson Gutherie, Jr. New officers elected for next year are president, Mrs. H. G. McDonald; vice-president, Mrs. Eloise Stanhope; secretary, Mrs. Bobby Wilson; treasurer, Mrs. J. R. McKinley; historian, Mrs. Elmer Marshall, reporter, Dr. Grace Yerbury.

Very interesting annotations on our modern music were presented by Miss Emy Lou Biedenharn. She explained that we are prepared to admit that both the old and new are measured by each other. Neither exist alone. Schoenberg's method of composing with 12 tones has been widely accepted, as indeed, has John Cage with his music written for percussion and the prepared piano. Since there should always be experimentation in the arts Our Modern movement is a healthy sign, she pointed out.

Aaron Copland, who was studied was on the program again. Whatever may be the ultimate verdict regarding the intrinsic value of Copland's music he remains historically important as a musician who by the diversity and effectiveness of his output, by his versatility, his adventureness and his industry, has participated with extraordinary completeness in the musical events of the contemporary world, she said.

Nicolas Slonimsky came to this country in 1923 Miss Biedenharn stated and has contributed much in his various articles and his contributions to "The International Cyclopedia of Music and Musicians." Miss Biedenharn's annotations were interspersed by personal anecdotes of the composers.

The following program was presented. Piano: Fisher's Hornpipe from Appalachia by John Work, Mrs. James E. Murphy; voice: texts from Gravestones at Hancock, New Hamshire by Nicolas Slonimsky, Miss Gertrude Sandrock; Piano-Duo, Danzon Cubano by Aaron Copland, Mrs. Florence Allbritton and Mrs. Eloise Stanhope.

Members present were: Mrs. B. D. Allbritton, Mrs. F. V. Allison, Miss Emy Lou Biedenharn, Mrs. James G. Caldwell, Mrs. Grayson Gutherie, Jr., Mrs. James Harris, Mrs. Elmer Marshall, Mrs. Hugh McDonald, Mrs. James E. Shady Grove PTA

At the regular monthly meeting, the Shady Grove P-T.A. observed the founding of the national Congress of Parents and Teachers. This organization was founded in Washington, D.C. on February 17, 1897.

After Mrs. Lea Facundus, president of the organization, called the meeting to order, Rev. J. L. Strittman gave an invocation. An introduction of Founders Day was given by Mrs. R. L. Moody. Birthdays of two famous men, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, were remembered with reverence. Also, P-T.A. members having birthdays this month were recognized.

Tribute was paid to the far reaching vision of two noble women, Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, who dared to insist that the future of our nation must depend upon the health and well being of children of all the people. A brief sketch of the life of Alice McLellan Birney was given by Mrs. Sophie Frasier and Mrs. Geneva Cloutier gave a sketch of Phoebe Apperson Hearst's life. After which, six P-T.A. members, Mrs. C. M. DeLaSalle, Mrs. J. G. Lee, Mrs. W. H. Taylor, Mrs. Maxine Davis and Mrs. Jame Smith, lighted candles which stood for the articles of our faith in the future success of our organization and pledge to make our world a better place for all boys and girls to grow up in.

After the program, a brief business meeting was held. The P-T.A. membership drive was postponed until the March meeting in order to gain more members. A cash prize will be given to the first room having 100 per cent membership. It was decided that a Chicken Spaghetti Supper be held at Shady Grove School on Friday, March 2, 1956, at 5:30 - 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Why Grow Old?

Have Positive Attitude When Looking At Life

A positive approach to life as compared to a negative one can make life seem as different as day is from night.

We see this all the time if we are observant. One person may go traveling in a country, which is not noted for its brisk cleanliness and efficiency but is famous for its charm. This person will see only dirt and inconvenience and overlook the charm.

Another may go to the same place and be thrilled by the colorful surroundings and the whimsy of the people, by throaty serenades drifting through the moonlight toward dawn and by the noise and confusion of early merchants as they prepare their wares for the day.

One person will look at a sunset and say, "Oh, it's going to rain tomorrow . . . How awful!" Another may see the same sunset and sigh, "How beautiful. What wonderful yellow hues the sunset has tonight!"

One woman may say to a guest, "I do not suppose you would like a cup of coffee, would you?" Another might say with real enthusiasm, "Do let me give you a cup of coffee!"

These are only small examples of the difference between a positive and a negative approach to daily living. If we are smart we will not save the positive approach for great crises but will oil the grinding wheels of life with it and will enrich our lives with it. You will have more fun that way and nine times out of ten it works to make your life more enjoyable. It works in subtle ways which even you may never recognize.

Of course, sometimes you are disappointed. You may say to your ever working husband, "I just know you would like to take me dancing this evening!" He may look at you with a sort of "What's wrong with you?" expression and turn you down flat.

You may say to your little son or daughter, "It will be fun to help me with this kitchen floor. Bet we can get it done in no time at all, that is, with your help." You may have the answer, "Sorry, I'm playing jacks next door," or "Mamie and I are cutting out paper

The positive approach to life is the best policy. It uncovers so much beauty and fun and stimulation.

doll dresses this afternoon. See you later!"

I still believe that it is a good policy to have the positive approach. This uncovers so much beauty and fun and stimulation which would otherwise pass right by you, without your knowledge.

Texan Denies Giving Any Impressions Of Youth And Riches To Aussie Pen-Pals

SEYMOUR, Tex., Feb. 24—UP—Donald Martin said Friday that any Australian beauties who have the idea that he 35, single and the owner of 50 oil wells "must have their wires crossed."

The newspaper Argus of Melbourne, Australian, reported that he had been corresponding wih 20 Australian beauties and telling them all he plans to visit Australia.

The Argus, as well as the beauties, had the impression that Martin was single, 35, and owner of 50 oil wells. Martin said that they had certainly got the wrong impression.

He is 50 years old, white-haired, five feet, six inches tall and has been married for 20 years. He owns no oil wells, but is a highly-respected rancher and wheat farmer.

Martin said he does—or did—have a hobby of corresponding with Australians. It started eight years ago when an Australian wrote him for information about Texas rodeos.

"I just thought he wanted it for information," Martin said. "But he published it and people started writing me. Everybody writes—girls and old men and old women."

Martin said that in the past eight years he has written to more people in Australia, "as a courtesy," than he can count. The Australians have mailed him 200 or 300 pictures.

One Australian, he said, telephoned him and asked him about oil.

"I told him Texas was the biggest oil state and I expect he got his wires crossed," Martin said. "Anyway, I could hardly hear him on the telephone.

"I'm not in the oil business. They must have their wires crossed. Some people get big ideas, but I've never tried to misrepresent anything."

Weakened MPSC Measure Voted In Miss. House

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 4 (AP)—The Mississippi House of Representatives today sent to the Senate a weakened Public Service Commission bill after refusing to reconsider the passing vote.

Representatives voted 59-44 today not to reconsider yesterday's 119-4 vote to strengthen the Public Service Commission and to regulate public utilities.

Under the bill, one of Gov. J. P. Coleman's pet campaign planks, the commission would have been granted complete control of all public utilities with authority to regulate their rate schedules.

But the House returned to municipalities the right to negotiate with public utilities for franchises and gave the commission authority to regulate sales of natural gas to industries.

In other action today, both houses held quiet sessions during which they passed several non-controversial bills and adjourned until 10 a.m. Monday.

One House-passed bill would require county officials to file annual reports of salaries and fees before April 15 to qualify for additional county funds.

Cotton

New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Cotton futures rallied briskly in late dealings today and closed 35 cents a bale lower to 35 cents higher. Only nearby May showed a decline.

Trade buying and short covering found offerings limited. The market at one time was off as much as $1.15 a bale, with a good deal of liquidating and hedging in evidence.

The rise in weekly repossessions of cotton from the loan to atmos the volume of weekly entries, as reported after the close Thursday, led to some early selling. Later new crop months showed some temporary weakness.

Evening up operations in nearby March futures slowed considerably. The March open interest at the start today was only 84,300 bales. There were no March transferable notices issued.

Prices were under pressure in early trading as long liquidation encountered stop loss selling primarily in May and July. The sell off appeared largely technical and the market rallied later in the day to close about unchanged for old crop months and modestly higher on new crops. Senator Aiken's statement that he believes 90 per cent supports do not have a chance of passage occasioned a little selling. Yesterday the senator told the textile industry that mandatory import quotas do not have a chance of passage this year. The trade continued a good buyer against increased cotton sales. Unfixed call sales showed an increase for the week of 102,700 bales to 800,400 vs. 1,111,200 a year ago. Liverpool closed off 4 to 41 cent points, and with sterling at 280¾ differences of New York over Liverpool were March 528 points, May 519, July 478. The new May inch contract in Liverpool is selling at 150 points over its American equivalent.

Exports so far this season total 956,554 bales vs. 2,211,486 a year ago according to the New York Cotton Exchange. Sales under the special export program will not be released until tomorrow. It is reported Spain confirmed 35,000 bales mostly American, Egyptian, Memphis 1¾s and California 1¼s.

Stock Market Nearing Record; Hits 1956 High

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—The stock market advanced to a new high mark for the present year today in its fifth straight rise.

It currently is near its record high mark established last Sept. 23 just before President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack that sent the stock market into a major reaction.

The advance was a moderate affair, but all divisions were favored by good plus signs. Gains frequently ranged from 1 to around 2 points and some were larger. There was a fair share of minus signs, but they weren't concentrated.

Sales amounted to 2,890,000 shares, one of the larger totals of the year. Yesterday's volume was 2,900,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.00 at $179.90. Yesterday it was up $1.30. The record high is $181.50.

The industrial component of the average was up $1.80, railroads gained 60 cents, and the utilities were up 20 cents.

90 Plead Innocent At Arraignments

Montgomery Negroes Walk To Work, Court Sessions, Continue Boycott

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 24—UP— Negroes walked to work in the rain Friday in a silent pilgrimage protesting the arrest of their leaders who organized a boycott of segregated buses and have made it stick for 11 weeks.

Ninety of the leaders, charged under an obscure law, pleaded innocent of any wrongdoing at their arraignment. The defendants also walked through the drizzle to enter their pleas at the courthouse.

Obeying their ministers who urged that mass demonstrations be avoided, the Negroes walked in pairs or small groups. Some 150 Negroes held a prayer meeting at a church after the arraignment.

A few blocks away in the state capitol, Gov. James E. Folsom met with Alabama editors and publishers and announced he would appoint a bi-racial commission to study "deteriorating" race relations in the state.

The bus boycott and the Authurin Lucy riots at the University of Alabama result in a "serious situation confronting us in Alabama," Folsom said. He said the commission would aim at removing the "fear" he said he prevalent among both races.

"Luckily there has been no death or bloodshed arising from our differences," Folsom said, "but I am a little bewildered to see our race relations in Alabama have deteriorated."

Reporters who toured the streets in Montgomery's Negro residential areas noted many Negroes walking, but others were seen in cars.

The Rev. R. D. Abernathy, one of the 26 Negro ministers who were arraigned Friday, had proclaimed the day as "prayer - pilgrimage" day and said he expected "no race-loving Negro" would drive his car or ride in other vehicles.

City police reported they could detect on change in downtown traffic flow.

One Negro taxicab company reported its business was off sharply, but others said it was too early to tell if the Negroes were by-passing the cabs.

The arraignment of the boycott leaders, indicted earlier this week by a grand jury, went off smoothly. Three Negro attorneys represented the defendants who were called before Judge Eugene Carter in 11 groups — representing the 11 cases reported by the grand jury.

Solicitor William Thetford said trials had been set for the week of March 19.

The Negroes were charged under identical indictments that said they entered a "conspiracy, combination, agreement, arrangement or understanding for the purpose of hindering, delaying or preventing" the city bus line from carrying on its business.

Cosmic Rays Black Out Sub Radio, Cause Alarm

LONDON, Feb. 24 — UP—A cosmic ray bombardment from violent sun storms washed out a radio contact with a British submarine Friday sparking a massive air-sea search for the vessel before it reported safe six hours later.

The radio interruption occurred while the submarine Acheron, with 65 men aboard, was operating in the Denmark Strait between Iceland and Greenland, about 270 miles northwest of Reykjavik.

It was scheduled to report by radio to the British admiralty at 10:50 a. m. (4:05 a. m. CST).

The sun spots that garbled communications throughout the world washed out the signal.

The admiralty made an allowance for a delay. But as time passed and the ship could not be contacted, the fear grew that it might have met the same fate as a sister ship, The Affray, which sank in the English Channel five years ago with a loss of 75 lives.

At 11:05 a. m., the admiralty flashed the signal "sub - miss' around the world. U. S. Air Force and British planes and all ships in the waters near Iceland headed for the submarine's estimated location.

After another tense hour of fruitlessly trying to contact the Acheron, the admiralty flashed the more serious "sub sank" message. Air-sea rescue units in Britain prepared to join the search. At 2:17 p. m., the admiralty received a report that the British minesweeper Coquette, which was in the area, had received a garbled message from the Acheron.

City Gets First Regular Report On Water, Sewer

T. L. Van Fossen, Monroe city consulting engineer this week made the first monthly detailed report to members of the city council on work done in the Water and Sewer department. This week's report was for the month of January.

Van Fossen's reports were initiated to keep the council members informed in detailed outline of what is being done in the department toward maintenance of the city water and sewer systems. The monthly reports are expected to aid in any further development in the department.

In his report to members of the city council, Van Fossen gave this break down on work done in January by the Water and Sewer department:

Vocational Group Off On Field Trip To State Capitol

The Business Training department of the Ouachita Valley Vocational school left early today by chartered bus for Baton Rouge where they arrived shortly after 10 o'clock.

Arrangements have been made for them to visit several of the State Departments — the State Board of Education including the office of the State Superintendent of Education, Shelby M. Jackson; the Department of Vocational Education; both legislative chambers; and the Department of Civil Service. Although arrangements are not complete, it is hoped that they will be able to visit the governor's office.

From the capitol they will go to Louisiana State university where they plan to visit the Department of Business Education.

Mrs. Mildred Wedemeyer and Miss Mary Moseley, instructors of Business Training, will accompany the following students: Jessie Woods, Bonnie Lankford, Avis Bowles, Shirley Parker, Jo Ann Dye, Frances Roberts, Vi Willbanks, Maureen Foster, Ruth Mash, Maudie Coleman, Katherine Brooks, Pat Barnett, Maxine Henry, Effie Rynbrand, Bobbie Whitcard, Clova Dean Stout, Georgie Bradberry, Ione Turner, and Betty Criswell.

S. W. Jackson, director of the school, states that field trips are frequently made. It is his opinion that such trips are an integral part of training as they facilitate personal contacts which are a valuable part of one's training.

Permits For Two Doctor Buildings Are Issued Here

Building permits calling for more than $125,000 in construction were issued Thursday by City Building Inspector S. H. Awl, it was learned Friday.

The permits called for the construction of two doctor's offices and five residences.

Most expensive of the jobs was a brick veneer office building for Dr. Robert M. Simonton and Dr. Fred A. Marx at 417 Wood Street. To be constructed at a cost of some $57,564, the building will have 24 rooms, containing 4500 square feet of floor space.

Next door to the office of these two doctors, at 415 Wood Street, a $31,731 brick veneer office will be erected for Dr. Bey B. Cobb. The building will have 11 rooms and 2,400 square feet of floor space.

Awl said Harry E. Carpenter is contractor for both jobs, and work began Thursday afternoon.

The five residences, which include three $8300 brick veneer residences on Lionel Street and two $5500 frame residences on Mississippi, will be constructed by J. S. James Construction Co., Inc.

Johns and Neel were the architects for the two doctors' buildings.

Ouachita, Bastrop Boys In District Triple-A Finals

Lions, Rams Nose Past Fair Park, Byrd In Openers

BASTROP, La., Feb. 24 —(Special)—The Ouachita Parish High Lions of Monroe and the Bastrop High Rams will fight it out in the finals of the north Louisiana triple-A boys' basketball tournament here Saturday night to determine the district title after squeezing past their Shreveport rivals, Byrd and Fair Park, in mighty close tourney openers here tonight.

Coach Herb Holliman's Lions, who recently lost a one-point decision to Bastrop in playing off a tie for the east zone title of the district, used a one-point verdict to oust Fair Park's Indians, kingpins of the west, 59 to 58, in tonight's opening game, and Coach Darrel Foreman's Rams followed with a two-point nod over Byrd, No. 2 in the west, 57 to 55.

Ouachita and Bastrop tangle in the 8:00 game at 8 o'clock Saturday night. Byrd and Fair Park are scheduled for a 7 o'clock preliminary to settle third place in the district.

The Lions and Rams, regardless of the Saturday outcome, are qualified for appearances in the state championship semi-finals.

Dickie Crowe led the Ouachita attack against Fair Park with 21 point's and had fine support from Jeff Spence and Bob Whitten with 15 and 14 respectively. Guard Jimmy Orton paced the Tribe and was high scorer of the game with 25. Ouachita was behind most of the time from one to two points, but caught the Tribe in the last minute.

The Lofton twins, Bob and Bill, led the Bastrop parade under the nets with 18 and 13 respectively, and Rodney McKinstry and Dan Ellis showed 12 and 10 respectively. Eddie Burt paced the Yellow Jackets in Byrd with 20 and also nabbed game scoring honors.

WASHINGTON SENATORS

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 24—UP—Eighteen Washington Senators, including pitchers Dean Stone, Chuck Stobbs and Bob Chakales and catcher Ed FitzGerald of the regular staff, worked out Friday. The club officially begins practice Saturday.

Bob Wiesler, the husky lefthander obtained from the New York Yankees in the Mickey McDermott deal, took his first drill with the Senators and had to be cautioned by Coach Cookie Lavagetto to ease up on his throws.

RED SOX

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 24—UP—Manager Mike Higgins expressed himself pleased Friday at the close of a three-week rookie school conducted by the Boston Red Sox.

Higgins said, "there were a lot of wonderful looking boys here."

He said that Saturday he would make an announcement about some of the youngsters who have earned a shot with the varsity when the regular spring campaign starts.

CUBS

MESA, Ariz., Feb. 24—UP—Cold winds cut short the Cubs' workout Friday but manager Stan Hack kept his athletes hustling while they were on the field. Coach Ray Blades gave a half-hour clubhouse lecture on inside baseball while waiting in vain for the wind to subside.

K. C. Wise, infielder who is the property of the Cubs' farm club at Los Angeles, reported to camp for a trial. Paul Minner, veteran lefthanded pitcher, also showed up but did not put on a uniform. He'll work out Saturday.

YANKEES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 24—UP—The Ralph Houks defeated the Eddie Lopats, 5-4, Friday in an eight-inning New York Yankee intra-squad game.

The winners made only five hits but all were for extra bases. The losers made seven hits. Tommy Carroll and Norm Siebern hit triples while Marshall Gilbert, John Blanchard and Tom McDonald belted doubles for the Houks.

CARDINALS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 24—UP — Jackie Brandt, who as an outfielder was International League rookie of the year last season at Rochester, will try to become a shortstop with the St. Louis Cardinals, manager Fred Hutchinson announced Friday.

Under the eye of infield Coach Bill Jurges, Brandt drilled for more than two hours at his new position. Jurges said he thought Brandt could make the change easily because he has speed, a good arm and quick reflexes.

DODGERS

VERO BEACH, Fla., Feb. 24—UP—Ransom Jackson, the third baseman obtained by the Dodgers in a winter deal with the Chicago Cubs, joined the advance guard of Brooklyn catchers and pitchers in a long workout Friday and announced he would welcome Jackie Robinson's predicted "battle" for the third base job.

Advised of Robinson's mid-winter remarks that Jackson would have to "beat me out for the third base job," Randy smiled and said: "Every year I've had to fight for my position. I see no reason to stop now. I don't mind a good fight."

WHITE SOX

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 24 — UP—Catcher Johnny Romano drove in three runs with a homer and double Friday to lead the farm club rookies to a 7-6 triumph over the varsity in the first Chicago White Sox intra-squad game.

John Phillips and Ron Jackson hit homers for the losers. Luis Aparicio, the rookie up from Memphis who is expected to replace Chico Carrasquel at shortstop for the White Sox, booted the only ground ball hit to him. He caught a pop-fly and beat out a bunt.

Needles Favored To Take Flamingo Sum At Hialeah

MIAMI, Feb. 24 — UP—Sixteen three-year-olds, who have been warming up for the occasion in overnight races and minor stakes, shoot for the "big one" Saturday in the 27th running of the $100,000 added Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah Park.

D&H Stable's Needles, a fast closing second in his only start of a winter campaign, headed the bulky field as a 5 to 2 favorite to win the first of the hundred graders offered the division. California's sophomores get their big opportunity next week in the Santa Anita Derby.

The winners will vie for favoritism for the 1956 Kentucky Derby.

Needles, one of the leading two-year-old colts of 1955 when he won the Sapling and Hopeful Stakes, carries only 117 pounds in the mile and one-eighth race while the others each shoulder 122. He received that advantage because he is Florida-bred.

With 16 starters the Flamingo will be worth a gross of $149,800 with $112,600 net going to the winner. The young colts expected to furnish Needles with the chief contention for the rich prize are Maine Chance Farms Gun Shot, Calumet Farms Liberty Sun, and Mrs. Anson A. Bigelows Nail.

Gun Shot will race coupled with Bushers Idol while Fabius and Liberty Sun form a second entry. Nail, winner of the Belmont and Pimlico Futurities and the Remsen a year ago, is on his own as he shoots for his first victory of the season in his third start.

Fifty-five per cent of U. S. imports come from the Western Hemisphere.

Jim Demaret, Jon Gustin One Blow Off In No. 2 Slot

HOUSTON, Feb. 24—UP—Veteran Ted Kroll shot a five-under par 67 Friday to tie little Jerry Barber for the lead with 137 totals at the halfway mark in the $30,000 Houston Open.

Kroll, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., birdied the final two holes on the wind-swept Memorial Park course Friday for a 67 to go with his two-under par 70 Thursday.

Barber, a Los Angeles veteran, had the reverse of Kroll's scores, with a 70 Sunday to go with his leading 67 Thursday.

Jimmy Demaret Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and Jon Gustin, Charlottesville, Va., were one stroke back of the leaders, both with 71-67—138s.

Gustin, a 23-year-old newcomer, had a chance to take the lead when he was seven-under par coming up to the 15th hole Friday. But the gusty winds of 20 miles an hour helped him plop two balls into the lake on the 185-yard hole.

Another stroke back at 139 was Joe Jiminez, Midlothian, Ill., with 69-70. Tied three strokes off the pace were Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif., and Deen Wood, Liberty, Tex., both with 71-69—140.

Cary Middlecoff, Dallas, who won the Bing Crosby and Phoenix Opens earlier on the winter tour, was one who failed to make the cutback to the top 90 and ties Friday.

Middlecoff fired an 80 in his opening round and a 72 Friday. The field will be cut to the top 60 and ties Saturday for Sunday's final round.

Forty-five, 15 better than Thursday, broke par on the 7,122-yard course Friday, and 20 are within only five strokes of the leaders.

A group of seven bunched at 141 included Tod Menefee, San Antonio, Tex., Jim Turnesa, Spring Valley, N. Y., Marty Furgol, LeMont, Ill., George Bayer, Cincinnati, Ohio, Jack Burke, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., Wesley Ellis, Riverdale, N. Y., and Elroy Martl, Houston.

Reported Santee's Wife Claimed $1,158 Expenses

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24 (AP)—Miler Wes Santee, barred from further amateur competition by the National A.A.U, was turning in daily expenses ranging from $25 to $38.50 while competing in west coast meets last spring, it was learned today.

"He explained to us that he had to be a "good guy" and told us that he had to pick up the tab many times," said Carl Hansen of Oakland, National A.A.U. president.

Hansen, who conducted the hearing in New York which led to Santee's lifetime disbarment, added that the former University of Kansas distance star's wife had "expenses" which amounted to $1,158 last year.

The A.A.U. forbids athletes from collecting expense money for their families and has a $15 top daily expenses of competitors.

"We gave Santee every opportunity to clear himself and he couldn't," said Hansen. "All of us are sorry about what happened to him, but any time anyone tells me that a 23-year-old man, and a college graduate and a marine at that, doesn't know what he's doing, I refuse to listen."

Santee, now on active duty with the Marines at Quantico, Va., worked out yesterday at the University of Pennsylvania. He said he planned to keep in shape "because I feel certain the A.A.U. will see the light." He added that he hoped to be able to represent the United States in the Olympic games next fall and "try once again to beat four minutes."

The lifetime disbarment from amateur athletics automatically bans Santee from the Olympics.

Hansen said the A.A.U. "at this time has no other athletes under investigation," but he would welcome any recommendations which would help the A.A.U. put a stop to frantic bidding by promoters for athletes to appear in various meets.

"I am keeping the so-called 'Secret Seven' committee active for that reason," he said.

The committee, appointed by Hansen shortly after his election to the A.A.U. presidency, gathered the data which led to the action against Santee.

At a meeting of the Pacific Association of the A.A.U. last night, Hansen said Pres. Avery Brundage of the International Olympic Committee had said last December "Santee will never run in the Olympic games." He quoted Brundage further as saying "I have enough overwhelming evidence on him myself right now, without any further investigation."

At Chicago today, Brundage admitted "I told them all they had to do was read the Olympic rule on Santee."

The Pacific Association indicated it would back two men involved in the Santee action, Tom Moore of Modesto and Fred Van Dyke of Stockton. Van Dyke was barred from A.A.U. participation and Moore was censured, both for alleged overpayments to the runner for competing in their track meets last spring.

Loop Head Fails To Ban Players; Pair To Continue

GREENSBORO, N.C., Feb. 24 (AP)—The confusion surrounding the hectic Atlantic Coast Conference basketball race today extended to the office of Commissioner Jim Weaver who suspended two players from further competition at noon and then had to lift the suspensions until next week to comply with a conference rule.

Weaver first announced that Bob Cunningham, a University of North Carolina sophomore from New York City, and Wake Forest reserve Bill Tucker, a junior from Louisville, Ky., had been banned from further A.C.C. competition for their part in a free-for-all fight following a Feb. 15 game between the teams at Chapel Hill.

The suspensions, for an "undetermined period," were to begin at noon today, Weaver said.

Tonight he announced that the suspensions will not become effective until a complete report of Weaver's investigation arrives at the schools in the mail, presumably Monday morning.

Weaver had notified school officials by telegram of the suspensions. He was not aware at the time, he said, that league rules "require notification of such action 'by registered mail.'"

Bowing to the technicality, Weaver said, "I must rescind my decision to become effective upon the receipt of this office's full report of the investigation X X X"

Cunningham, thus was eligible to play in tonight's game at Chapel Hill between North Carolina and Duke and Tucker will be able to play in the Wake Forest-North Carolina State game at Raleigh tomorrow.

The four teams are tied for first place, with the season ending tomorrow.

Demonfish May Even Record At Rice's Expense

NATCHITOCHES, La., Feb. 24 (Special) — After successfully conquering two foes in Tennessee this past weekend, the Northwestern State College Demonfish will be seeking their third straight victory when they swim against the Rice University Owls of Houston in the Demon Natatorium Saturday. Starting time is slated for 2:30 p.m.

If the improving Demonfish win this one, they will balance their season record (which now stands at three victories in seven engagements) to the .500 mark, in closing out the 1956 season.

Only one senior, freestyler Dean Clark, will end his swimming career after three previously outstanding seasons under the guidance of coach John Piscopo. Clark played an important roll in the composition of relay teams and middle distant events for his tankmates this season.

Other point makers to be relied on for the Demonfish will be freshman Frank Pernique, who set a new school record in the 440 yd. free style against Tennessee Tech last Saturday, junior backstroker Ray Timm, sophomore breaststroker Johnny Tinnell, freshman Grulee Herron, who betters his previous times in the 220 and 440 yard freestyle events every time he gets in the water, and Northwestern's topnotch fancy divers Benny Wise and Botsy McClanahan.

Leg Injury Puts Bengals' Sigler Out For Season

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb 24—UP—Leg injuries Friday put Louisiana State's top Southeastern Conference basketball scorer, Roger Sigler, out of commission for the rest of the season.

Sigler pulled a leg ligament during the Auburn game. Coach Harry Rabenhorst said the leg was not responding to treatment.

Sigler has scored 501 points in 20 games this season to net a 25.1 average. The Cleves, Ohio, junior ranks ninth in the nation among major college scorers.

LSU meets Mississippi State Saturday night, Mississippi on Monday and closes the season March 2 against Tulane.

Demons To Close With La. College, Memphis State

NATCHITOCHES, La., Feb 24—(Special)—After losing a heartbreaking conference game to Louisiana Tech in Ruston, the Northwestern State College Demons Demons basketball team made plans this week to finish out their season. Two games remain on the schedule, with Louisiana College in Pineville and against Memphis State in Natchitoches.

On Saturday night, the Demons will make the 50-mile trek to Alexandria, winding up in Pineville to play the Wildcats of Louisiana College, a team they roundly whipped at home recently.

Tuesday night, basketball fans in this area will see the Northwestern five play their last game of the regular season, with powerful and fast-breaking Memphis State as opponents. Game time for this tussle has been set for 7:30 p.m.

Memphis State, ranked among top collegiate powers in the round-ball sport, brings two of the best courtmen of the nation here Tuesday night, in Forest Arnold and Win Wilfong, each of whom is averaging more than 22 points this year in regular play.

Northwestern's rating now stands at 18-8 in overall record, while they have won nine and lost two in the conference second only to McNeese, with a GSC record of 9-1.

Betsy Rawls Nabs Lead In Zaharias Golf Tournament

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 24—UP—Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., bored through a brisk wind Friday to take the lead in the $5,000 Babe Zaharias Cancer Fund Open golf tournament.

At the tourney's 36-hole halfway mark, Miss Rawls emerged on top by one stroke with a 143. Her second round 70, two strokes under men's par, was the best round of the day as a 20 mile an hour breeze sent the scores of most of the field of 61 women stars soaring.

Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, who shared the first round lead with Louise Suggs, rallied on the back nine to hold second position with a 74—144.

Miss Suggs, Sea Island, Ga., professional, shot a 75 to tie Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., at 145. Miss Wright carded a 73.

Long-driving Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., put together a 74 over the windy Bobby Jones course for a 147 total.

Betty Dodd of San Antonio, Tex., was bunched with three others at 148 and Betty Jameson, also of San Antonio, was grouped with three others at 149.

He completed 29 pullups, 75 squat jumps and 55 pushups. He did 80 situps in two minutes and ran 300 yards in 40 seconds.

Rebs Beat Lion Sextet For 1-AAA Title

West Monroe's Girls Cop 54-35 Playoff Triumph

By NORRIS VANCLEAVE

With a well-rounded scoring attack reaching its height in the last quarter, the West Monroe Rebel sextet defeated the Ouachita High School cagerettes, 54-35, yesterday afternoon to determine which of the two teams would be recognized as North Louisiana AAA champions.

Since both teams advance in state play, yesterday's game, which was played in the Ouachita gym, was little more than a district prestige match. Both West Monroe and Ouachita will represent district 1-AAA against the No. 1 and 2 teams of the southwest district.

In a peppery game closer all the way than the score indicated, the West Monroe girls established a 4-1 lead on field goals by John Ann Painach and Shirley Cotton and held the edge throughout the game although Ouachita trimmed it one point twice and stayed within winning range until the final period.

Both teams showed balance with scoring well distributed among the starting forwards For West Monroe, Cotton and Patsy Rawls came into increasing prominence as potentially high scorers as usual high-pointer John Ann Painach used her speed and fancy dribbling to good advantage in getting the Rebels a high percentage of close-in shots.

After trailing 16-13 at the end of the first quarter, Ouachita narrowed the lead to 16-15 early in the second period on a long basket by Donna Holdeman. But two free points by Cotton and two baskets by Painach quickly widened the gap again and the Rebels were ahead 22-17 at the half. Early in the third quarter Ouachita threatened again when two baskets by Peggy Long and two bonus points by Holdeman narrowed the West Monroe margin to 24-23. But four baskets by Rawls in the third period sparked the Rebels to a 26-29 advantage by the beginning of the fourth. In the fourth, the Rebels scored 18 points to Ouachita's six to win going away.

Movement Starts To Rewrite Rules Of Amateur Code

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 — UP—Pincus Sober, chairman of the special "secret seven" committee of the National AAU, Friday declared his group plans to start interviewing various sports leaders shortly for advice on possible revisions of the amateur code.

Sober's committee was formed last December (A) to study all matters pertaining to the Santee case and report its findings to the AAU executive committee, and (B) to go over all present divisions of the general rules of the union pertaining to the amateur code.

As a result of evidence turned in by the "secret seven" Santee was banned for life by the AAU last Sunday for accepting excessive expenses. Now the special committee is ready to study the amateur code.

"However, our next report isn't due until the annual meeting of the AAU next November," Sober pointed out, although he added that a preliminary report might be turned over to the executive committee in June.

The New York attorney, who doubles in brass as chairman of the AAU track committee, said the "secret seven" hopes to get a cross-section of suggestions from meet directors, college athletic directors, athletes and newsmen on possible revisions of the amateur code.

Walker's Travelers Play In West Monroe Tonight

QUEEN OF CAGERS—Hazel Walker (above), famed professional girls basketball player, brings her Arkansas Travelers to West Monroe High School gymnasium tonight for a meeting with the West Monroe Ramblers, men's team. Miss Walker was 11 times All-America Pro player, and during 11 years of amateur play she played on five national championship amateur clubs. She claims the world's free-throw championship.

Hazel Walker and her famed Arkansas Travelers, professional girls basketball machine, comes to West Monroe tonight for an 8 o'clock appearance against the West Monroe Ramblers, a men's team, with the game being played under men's rules. The game, sponsored by the West Monroe Quarterback Club, is billed for the W.M.H.S. gymnasium.

Miss Walker's Travelers, organized in 1949 after she had played 11 years in amateur ranks and nearly as many more as a pro, have played at little over 1,200 games in national tours and journeys into Mexico. Last season alone the girls played 220 games, meeting and beating some of the best men's talent in the territories they visited.

The Travelers thrive on expert basketball but mix enough shenanigans and trickery to round out an entertaining night on the boards. Miss Walker personally puts on a free-throw exhibition (she claims the world's championship in this department) during halftime and challenges all comers, men or women, standing, kneeling or sitting, to try to beat her. She hasn't lost a free-throw contest in nine years and holds a record of 49 good shots in 50 attempts. The Travelers will back her with a fine brand of trick shots from a mass of baffling pass patterns.

Included in Miss Walker's troupe are Francies Garroute, Van Buren, Ark., termed "greatest basketball player of all time;" Mary Robbins, Oxford, Miss., a great competitor and a "villain" of the game; Iyne Greer, Des Arc, Ark., member of the women's basketball Hall of Fame and outstanding player in the Pan-American games at Mexico City; Helen Blackburn, Booneville, Miss., a newcomer to pro ranks and a former FBI employee; Amelia Ziegler, Astonia, N.Y., stressing ability, appearance, and showmanship; and Toby Rayburn, Tylertown, Miss., who was named to the National A.A.U. All-Star team last year, and is serving her first season as a pro.

The opposing Ramblers have announced the members of their squad as Howard Barker, Dan McClure, Bobby Wilson, and Jeff Hennessy of the West Monroe High coaching staff; Wood Sers, Crosley Grammar coach; Lake Oxford, Crosley principal; Ray George, Millsaps Grammar coach; Jimmy Rutledge, Claiborne Elementary coach; Herschel McConathy, Neville of Monroe coach; Bob Bennett, ex-Northeast State Star; Johnny Scalia, president of the Quarterback Club, and Harry Liner.

Mustangs Seek To Wrap Up Southwest Cage Title

By UNITED PRESS

Southern Methodist goest after its 21st victory of the season Saturday night at home—a victory that would wrap up the undisputed Southwest Conference championship and send the Mustangs into the NCAA playoffs.

The opposition will be the toughest the conference can provide—second-place Arkansas, a come-back-team that is the only one with even the faintest hope of sharing the title with Coach Doc Hayes' Methodists.

The high-scoring Mustangs have beaten the Razorbacks twice already this season, both by five-point margins on a neutral court and on the Hogs own floor at Fayetteville, and will be an even stouter favorite to run their conference string to 11-0 at home.

Arkansas, with an 8-2 mark, will have to defeat SMU and then Texas Christian next Tuesday night and at the same time hope for a Rice upset over SMU at Houston Tuesday night if it is to share the crown.

SMU seems sure to run head-on into another zone defense designed to stop its fiery run-and-shoot stars, but the advantage of the home floor, where they haven't lost in more than two years, should offset that problem.

The game, a sell-out in SMU's Perkins Gym for weeks, will be televised in the Dallas-Fort Worth area by a Fort Worth station, KFJZ-TV, Channel 11, and will be piped back to stations KARK-TV on Channel 4 in Little Rock and KFSA-TV on Channel 22 in Fort Smith, Ark.

There'll be two other games on tap Saturday night, but mostly they'll involve teams jockeying for higher spots in the second division. Rice, bumped out of a chance for a share of the title by Texas earlier in the week, plays Texas A&M at College Station, while Baylor and Texas meet at Waco in a game that will close Baylor's loop schedule.

Ogden's Quintet Tags Hico Rival In 53-49 Battle

OGDEN, La., Feb. 24 —(Special)—The Ogden High School basketball boys put on a rousing come-from-behind finish here tonight to nose out Hico High School, 53-49, in their regional Class C playoff. Ogden had led most of the game, but fell behind in the third quarter and had to overcome a one-point Hico lead in the last 33 seconds.

The victory sends to Ogden quint, kingpins of district four, to the eight-team state championship Class C tournament scheduled for Southwestern Louisiana Institute at Lafayette next Friday and Saturday.

Fain led the Ogden assault with 25 points, and Tullos was high scorer for Hico with 21.

Ogden jumped into a 15-13 quarter lead and held a 27-21 margin at the half. Hico came back strong in the third quarter to forge a 41-39 lead entering the final period. Hico enjoyed a 49-48 lead with 33 seconds to go when Ogden was awarded two foul shots. The first pitch was good, the second missed, and Ogden got the rebound and dumped in a final field basket to sew up the game.

"No one has said anything about televising it to me," Lonborg said, "but now with the sellout, maybe some station or network will want to carry it."

Reigel, Hopkins Continue To Lead Small Colleges

NEW YORK, Feb. 24—UP—Bill Reigel of McNeese (La.) State, Bob Hopkins of Grambling (La.), Chester Webb of Georgia Teachers and Dave Olmsted of Clarkson (N. Y.) are battling for small college basketball's individual scoring title.

NCAA figures which include games of Feb. 18 show Reigel leading for the second straight week with a 32.8-point average. He has scored 819 points in 25 games.

Olmsted is runner-up with a 31.5-point average on 409 points in 13 games. Hopkins and Webb are tied for third with 30.6 point averages. Hopkins has 766 points in 25 games and Webb 704 in 23.

Olmsted is a junior. The other three are seniors.

Of the four, Hopkins has the best overall credentials, regardless of whether he winds up on top. The 6-9 Grambling center breaks a record every time he makes a field goal or free throw.

Hopkins has boosted the all-time collegiate scoring record to 3,660 points in four seasons and has scored at least 30 points in all but 27 of his 123 games. He also has scored the most field goals ever (1,367), most free throws (926) and has grabbed the most rebounds (2,132).

Tom Hart of Middlebury is the only individual champion likely to retain his crown. He tops the rebounders with a 28.7 average per game. Last season, he recovered a record 29.5 per game.

Bill Pace of Defiance (Ohio) leads in field goal accuracy with .599 per cent and Fred May of Loras, (Iowa) is tops in free throw efficiency with .879 per cent.

West Virginia Tech is far ahead in the team scoring race with a 104.8 average and is a good bet to retain this title. Georgia Teachers is second with 95.3. Amherst, defending the team defense crown, leads with 57.9. McNeese is runner-up, having allowed its opponents to average 58.6.

Name 132 Horses To Supply Field For Belmont Run

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 — UP—A total of 132 three-year-olds, the largest number in 10 years, has been nominated for the 88th running of the $100,000 added Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park June 16, the Greater New York Association announced Friday.

Even though supplementary nominations will be permitted for the first time for the 1956 renewal of the third of the triple crown classics, owners were more inclined to nominate their promising young horses early at $50 each rather than pay the $5,000 supplementary fee permitted until five days before the race.

Among the nominating owners were Andre J. Drevolin and Rex C. Ellsworth. It was their failure to nominate Determine, 1954 Kentucky Derby winner, and Swaps, the Derby winner a year ago, for the Belmont Stakes, which brought about the supplementary provision.

Crevolin named Document and Swift Boots while Ellsworth nominated Like Magic and Terrang.

Last year only 118 young thoroughbreds were named for the mile and one-half race. Nashua, beaten by Swaps in the Kentucky Derby, added a Belmont triumph to his victory in the Preakness.

Since supplementary nominations also are permitted for the Preakness the chance of a triple crown winner looked better than ever. A late developing young horse can now be made eligible for the final two triple crown events after he scampers to a surprise victory in the first — the Kentucky Derby. There has not been a triple crown winner since Citation in 1948.

Geldings, however, are barred from the Belmont.

Arkansas Slates N.A.I.A. Playoff For Little Rock

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 24 — UP—Four more district play-offs to determine delegates to the 32-team NAIA basketball tournament March 12-17 were announced Friday.

Chairman Clifford J. Aultman of district 30 (Pennsylvania) said a two-team, best of three games playoff will open next Tuesday involving Geneva and either Elizabethtown (14-3) or Millersville Teachers (14-4). The latter two collide at Elizabethtown Saturday night and the winner will tackle Geneva for the NAIA berth.

In district 17 (Arkansas) district publicity chairman B. L. Horton announced three teams have clinched playoff spots. They are Arkansas A&M, Southern State and Arkansas Tech. A double playoff loomed since two teams, Hendrix and Arkansas College, are fighting for the right to oppose Arkansas State for the fourth playoff position. The NAIA series will be March 5-6 at Little Rock.

Offer All Dope About Amateurs At Texas Relays

AUSTIN, Feb. 24 — UP—Clyde Littlefield, director of the Texas relays, said Friday he will supply the AAU with any information it wants on athletes competing in the Texas relays "who come under their jurisdiction."

Littlefield said he had already furnished the AAU with information on the amount which was paid to Wes Santee for his appearance at the Texas relays last year.

The veteran University of Texas track coach said he couldn't recall the exact amount but thought it totaled about $250, for plane fare and other expenses.

Little said payments made to Santee were itemized in the report to the AAU.

"I think the boys ought to be paid expenses allowed under the rules," Littlefield said.

BERTOIA TO GET CHANCE

DETROIT (AP)—Reno Bertoia, 21-year-old bonus baby who has batted only 96 times in two seasons with the Detroit Tigers, may wind up as the club's second baseman.

Audit Reveals Good Financial Record At LTI

A state audit made on Louisiana Training Institute here this month showed that for the fiscal year ending June, 1955, the institute had a good financial record.

Prepared by Allison R. Kolb, state auditor, the report showed that revenues of the institute exceeded expenditures by enough to greatly decrease a deficit of $1,721.-37 which was outstanding at the beginning of the fiscal year.

The deficit was cut down to $36.12 and Kolb commented that "every effort should be made to liquidate this small balance during the current period."

Kolb made no further statement on the institution's finances other than to point out a minor discrepancy in the purchase of some hogs:

"A special appropriation of $4,000 was made by the state board of liquidation to be used for replacing diseased cows. As shown by (the report), $163.25 was used for the purchase of hogs. This expenditure does not seem to have been within the scope of the appropriation. The unexpended balance of $2.14 was returned to the state treasury."

The report showed that the total revenue of the institution during the fiscal year was $346,706.82, while total expenditures were $344,-997.33, leaving $1,709.49. This was used to partially cover the deficit outstanding at the beginning of the year.

Malenkov's Operation Of Power Ministry Assailed

MOSCOW, Feb. 24 (AP)—The boss of Soviet state planning sharply criticized former Premier Georgi M. Malenkov's Ministry of Electric Power Stations today for dragging its feet on putting new equipment into operation.

"The Ministry of Electric Power Stations is procrastinating too much with putting into operation new equipment and electric stations," Deputy Prime Minister Maxim Saburov wrote in an article for the Soviet press. "Because of this, one million tons extra of fuel, in conventional terms, are consumed annually at high pressure electric stations alone."

This was the first high-level criticism of the ministry since Malenkov took over just a year ago, after he declared himself inept in the premiership and resigned. The article revived speculation about the future of Malenkov, who succeeded Stalin in 1953.

Malenkov already has spoken in the current 20th Soviet Communist party Congress. He went down the line for the policy laid down by party boss N. S. Khrushchev, including the concept of all-out priority for the development of heavy industry over consumer goods. Malenkov's name has been identified in the past with an attempt to give priority to consumer goods.

Although Malenkov sat with the ruling party Presidium during the Congress, and to all outward appearances remained a member of the "collective leadership," the criticism of his ministry by Saburov, head of the State Planning Commission, stirred curiosity concerning Malenkov's actual role at the moment.

The criticism came just as the party prepared to elect its new Central Committee, which is supposed to be the ruling body.

Until the Saburov article showed up, the only references to the electric power industries at the Congress had been praise for plans to increase the construction of hydroelectric plants and to create power grids.

17 Missionaries Found In Cuba

HAVANA, Feb. 24 — UP — Seventeen Tennessee missionaries on a goodwill tour of the Caribbean were found safe Friday in eastern Cuba after being reported missing in six small planes.

The group, members of the Church of Prophesy, of Cleveland, Tenn., were found near the small town of Niquero, in Oriente province.

They were the second group of "missing" American air travelers found in Cuba in the past 36 hours. Six air tourists from Columbus, Ohio, were found fishing off Manzanillo Wednesday after being reported missing since early Monday.

The missionaries, on a tour of Cuba, Haiti, Jamaica, the Dominican Republic, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, landed at Cuba's eastern tip after one of their planes made a forced landing. No one was injured.

is very apparent to all and hence no need for argument.

8. DICE is best. The clue says "fairly sure" which means there might be some doubt. Surely there would be no doubt about a NICE game but some critical folks object to a DICE game even if it's only parcheesi.

12. We certainly cannot retain the SCENTS we remembered in our childhood days but many of the SCENES may well be retained in picture and painting.

15. POSTER is best. A ROSTER tells you, rather than "reminds" you, and is compulsorily looked at, rather than just "seen." A POSTER may just happen to remind you of something, as the clue suggests.

22. Specifying "furtively" implies that they could do this other than furtively which is true of SPEAK. They couldn't: SNEAK about the place other than furtively.

CLUES DOWN:

1. BALLET answers excellently. When seeking to invent a new kind of BULLET, success is certainly not assured, but when "producing" it, success has presumably been already achieved.

2. WIVES is more apt since the clue emphasizes "returning" or coming home. At any foreign port when going overseas they may be greeted by WAVES from friendly people. It is particularly upon returning that they may be greeted by their WIVES.

4. When you're REVISING a show it is a good idea to bring it up to date. When REVIVING a show, often the whole idea is to present it exactly as it was presented in the past.

5. SURE is best. One says "argued," not "quarreled," and it doesn't follow that, if a man argues even furiously, that he is SORE. He must be pretty SURE of his point at the time to so argue, of course.

10. TASKS is best for the people of India see the elephants actually at work on their TASKS. One need not be in India to know how heavy an elephant's TUSKS are.

13. Secret CRIMES may disturb, or concern, a certain proportion of the public, but will hardly alarm the general public as a whole. Only serious CRISES could do this.

14. SIGN is the more comprehensive answer, and embraces SIGH, which is merely one possible SIGN of boredom.

19. An ACE swimming service can do so of course. It is youth that is in a man's favor, while AGE counts against him.

20. TRY is best. A+ a fair, or midway, the only TOY you get without paying the proper price for it is one you win; but this costs nothing, not "a small amount." You pay the small amount for your TRY, the prize (if any!) being free.

dairy products, he said, with a resulting oversupply of corn and other livestock feeds from diverted acres.

"The whole Midwest farm economy, which by rights should be stable today, has been disrupted by the effect of high rigid supports for the producers of other crops," he said.

Aiken said three groups now want rigid supports restored:

"First those who sincerely believe that such a course will raise farm income.

"Second, those who are making a fortune out of the storage of government surpluses, and

"Third, those who want a completely regimented agriculture in America and know that their best chance of achieving this rests in maintaining enormous price-breaking surpluses in the hands of the government."

Excess of births over deaths boosted a U. S. population increase of 2,570,000 in 1955 with immigrants accounting for another 250,000 increase in the same time.

President 'Safer' Since Attack, Physician Says

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 24—UP—President Eisenhower's doctor said Friday the chief executive might be "safer than before" from a heart attack if he seeks a new term because he knows he has to keep a governor on his energy.

The White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard Mc C. Snyder, commented as Mr. Eisenhower went into the quail fields to continue a daily regimen of hunting and golfing that began Feb. 6 and ends Friday night. The President will fly back to Washington Saturday morning.

Snyder said that he is not offering any guarantee that the President will not have another heart attack such as the one that hit him last Sept. 24.

"These physical accidents come out of nowhere," he said.

"All he can do is trust in God and if he decides, if he goes ahead, but it would be the same for any new man who has never had a heart attack. Even many young men have heart attacks without warning and die."

But, Snyder said, "it might be safer than it was before," whatever the President's future plans may be, because Mr. Eisenhower has learned to slow down and guard his physical condition more carefully.

Snyder said he has "no impression at all" whether his patient will seek a second term. But he said the nine-day vacation has put the President in "very good shape" and he has "not been fatigued at all" by his comparatively strenuous exercise.

Besides hunting Mr. Eisenhower has returned to his beloved golf game and he put 18-hole rounds back-to-back Wednesday and Thursday. He hit some drives of 240 yard with a downhill roll, which is good country hitting even in a tournament.

The President looked sleepy as he set out for quail Friday, five months from the date of his heart attack.

Thompson Claims Much Support For Own Highway Bill

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 24 (AP) — Rep. T. A. Thompson (D-La) today said his highway bill has the support of many members of the House Public Works Committee.

Thompson's bill calls for ten billion dollars of highway spending in ten years without any bonds or additional taxes.

"My bill is in committee now and could be offered as a substitute bill when it hits the floor," Thompson told the Louisiana Motor Transport Assn. "It depends on parliamentary procedure."

Thompson outlined his objections to two other highway construction programs.

He said the Clay plan, introduced by the Eisenhower administration, would issue 30-year bonds to the amount of 21 billion dollars. Thompson said the resulting interest — 11½ million dollars — would be too much.

The House roads subcommittee has introduced the Fallon Bill, which would spend 10 million dollars in half the time Thompson's bill suggests.

Thompson said that is too much spending too quickly. A slow program is necessary, the congressman said, because of the shortages of cement, steel and engineers.

He told the association that a plan is needed to boost highway construction without increasing the cost of living and ruining the American economy.

Under his plan, Thompson said, federal financing would come "from the general revenues of the treasury and not from special bonds or additional taxes. I feel that such a position is warranted since the various federal taxes now collected amount to 2½ billion dollars."

Jaycees, Jaynes To Meet Tonight

A bi-monthly, informal meeting of the Jaycees, Haynes and their guests will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Strauss Camp, Bill Cummings, chairman of the Jaycee activities committee, said Friday.

"We are expecting a good turnout," Cummings said, "and we want as many Jaycees and their wives (Jaynes) as possible to come out and enjoy themselves."

Cummings explained that informal sports-wear, or jeans and slacks, will be the "correct dress" and that sandwiches with refreshments will be served. Music by the top bands will be furnished, he said.

There will be no charge, Cummings added.

Those who are not familiar with the location of Strauss Camp were advised to contact a fellow Jaycee for directions.

16 Airmen, Plane Land Safely After Engine Troubles

LONDON, Saturday, Feb. 25—A giant U. S. Air Force Globemaster with 16 men aboard limped to safety and landed in Iceland Friday after one of its engines developed mechanical trouble over the stormy North Atlantic.

The crippled four-engined plane touched down at Iceland's Keflavik Air Base at 12:26 a. m. (6:26 p. m. CST, two hours after it sent out a distress call, the London headquarters of the U. S. Third Air Force reported. Arctic rescue planes have been dispatched to the Globemaster's assistance.

The plane had radioed that one of its engines was feathering some 150 miles south of Iceland on its flight from Goose Bay, Labrador, to Prestwick, Scotland.

Air Force patrol planes were dispatched from Keflavik to lead the big transport to safety after it radioed it was losing altitude over the storm-tossed Atlantic. But the pilot, whose name was not immediately released by Air Force authorities, succeeded in bringing the plane in safely.

LSU Extension Awards

St. James Parish Man 'Outstanding Farmer'; W. Carroll Man Second

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 24 (AP) — Louisiana's outstanding farmer for 1956 is James Graugnard of St. James Parish, Kermit Coulon of the Louisiana State University agricultural extension service said today.

Coulon is state chairman for the award, jointly sponsored by the state Junior Chamber of Commerce and the American Petroleum Institute.

Graudnard will receive his award at an honor banquet tomorrow night at Lutcher, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce groups from Lutcher, Grammercy and Paulina.

Second place honors went to Rudolph Elkins of Oak Grove with Jacks Williams of Caddo Parish finishing third.

The contestants had to meet the following qualifications:

1. A successful farm operator who derives two-thirds of his annual income from farming.
2. Between the ages of 21 and 25.
3. A farmer who has made outstanding progress and contributed to community betterment and conservation.

"Graugnard has made a fine record in his farming operations," Coulon. "He started in 1911 with a 2,100-acre farm right in the heart of the sugar belt. With good farm management, diversification and a general shift from the two-crop system, rice and sugar cane, his predominantly sugar cane farm now has beef cattle, hogs and sheep."

Judges in the statewide contest were Malcolm Dougherty, president of the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation, and four members of the LSU agricultural extension service, C. E. Kemmerly, Joseph Lamendola, W. E. Monroe and A. D. Fitzgerald.

Graugnard will compete in the national contest to be held April 10-12 at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Senate Leaders Plan Reforms In U.S. Election Law

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Senate leaders announced plans today to reform the election laws in advance of the presidential and congressional campaigns this year.

Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex) said one object of the legislation is to put political contributions "on a public basis," and, for all practical purposes, to stop.

He indicated, however, that the bill would apply only to elections, not primary campaigns.

"We're going to have a strong elections bill this session," Johnson said.

Minority Leader Knowland (R-Calif) told newsmen:

"I think some changes can be made to improve the election situation. I would like to see something accomplished before the 1956 elections."

Johnson said the leadership was not trying to steal the thunder of the special committee of eight senators appointed yesterday to investigate political pressure lobbying and campaign contributions. It will be some time before the special group makes any recommendations, and the leaders obviously want something in the works right away.

The bipartisan legislation now being drafted, Johnson said, can be revised to meet any needs brought to light in the lobbying investigation.

He said the proposed bill will provide "stringent" requirements for the reporting of campaign contributions. It will also provide federal tax exemptions for up to $100 of individual political contributions. The idea of this is to encourage more people to make comparatively small donations and thus broaden financial participation in election campaigns.

Another section, Johnson said would permit TV and radio networks to give equal free time to candidates of the major parties without having to accord the privilege to "splinter" groups. The senator said the section would be framed to give free time, too, to any important third party entering the political scene.

Wildlife Building Program Halted By Judge's Order

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 24 (AP)—Judge Rene A. Viosca today slapped down plans for a new wildlife and fisheries building because New Orleans has no right to hand out land it doesn't own.

New Orleans had donated land for the site of the $1,200,000 building. But Judge Viosca, in his civil district court injunction, said the state in 1906 had allowed the city only to act as administrator of the land as an amusement park. New Orleans, the judge said, was not given title to the land.

"It would appear that the city has no power to transfer anything to the (Wildlife and Fisheries) Commission," said the judge.

The Commission's administrative, laboratory and museum building was to be built on West End Park adjoining Lake Pontchartrain.

Judge Viosca's order prohibits the commission from taking further steps toward constructing the building.

The judge said New Orleans' home rule charter of 1954 contains no provision "which indicates that the state intended to transfer to the city title to West End Park." Commission attorneys had argued that the charter, granted by the Legislature, superseded the 1906 act.

"It would appear further that the commission is without authority to expend its funds fort he construction of buildings on land which it does not own, and which the state Legislature has not authorized it to use, but has dedicated for other purposes," Judge Viosca added.

federal matching funds. The federal government matches state old age assistance payments up to $55.

The report noted that:

1. "The present formula for federal matching funds expires Sept. 30. If no enacted, and federal matching reverts to the old formula, the matching would stop on a maximum grant of $50 per month."

2. Sen. Russell Long of Louisiana has introduced a bill providing federal matching in old age assistance on grants up to $60 month.

So, with this confusing picture before them, the board adopted two budgets.

The first calls for an expanded old age assistance program and would cost $59,050,92 in state funds and $71,447,787 in federal grants for a total cost of $131,498,-716.

The other budget, based on current operations, would call for a total of $121,855,252 with $52,206,721 in state funds. Chief difference in the two is in old age assistance, which is about eight million less in the second budget.

In the morning session, the board voted to wait for federal action on a program to provide surplus commodities to all needy persons. The Welfare Department supervises distribution of surplus foodstuffs, bought under federal farm price supports, to farm families hit by failing crops.

The federal government supplies the commodities free, the department certifies the needy and the parishes pay the cost of distribution.

Agriculture Commissioner Dave Pearce asked the board to extend the program to include all needy. But the board, noting Congress had a program under consideration for federal aid to needy families, voted to wait until Congress acted.

Welfare services director O. C. Sills said the present program extends into 31 parishes with 170,000 persons receiving the commodities. He estimated 200,000 persons would participate before the program ended in May.

In other action, the board:

1. Officially accepted the new 2½ million dollar welfare building.

2. Approved an increase of up to $95 over the maximum $125 monthly grant in "aid to dependent children cases in which there is a child or children who would qualify under the provisions for ill and handicapped children. . ." The extra money would go for medical care.

3. Approved a $10 monthly grant for blind persons to provide food and care of seeing eye dogs, but did not increase the $95 monthly maximum.

4. Increased the maximum payment to nursing homes for care of old persons from $95 per month to $105, costing about $25,000 per month.

Adenauer Kicks 37 Rebels Out Of Democratic Party

BONN, Germany, Feb. 24 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer tonight brought to a head a bitter nine-month quarrel with the Free Democratic party by expelling 37 of its rebellious members from his coalition government.

Dr. Thomas Dehler, leader of the Free Democrats, promptly called in a speech at Stuttgart tonight for "bargaining with the Russians for the price of German unity."

Dehler was cheered repeatedly as he accused Adenauer of lacking determination to achieve unification.

Adenauer exacted quick revenge for his defeat of last week at the hands of the Free Democrats. The Free Democrats helped the Socialists wrest North Rhine-Westphalia, West Germany's richest state, from Adenauer's control.

The 80 - year - old Chancellor, bounding back from that political drubbing, was able to expel the Free Democrats by nailing down the support of the powerful opposition Socialists for constitutional amendments legalizing rearmament.

Agreement with the Socialists insured a total of at least 402 votes in the 487 - member Bundestag (Lower House). This is far more than the necessary two-thirds for the amendments without help from the FDP. In the Bundesrat (Upper House) Adenauer and the Socialists control all the votes.

The decision to expel the Free Democrats was made at a meeting of Adenauer's Christian Democratic party leaders. The action followed yesterday's dramatic FDP split which saw 16 of the 53 Free Democrats bolting to form a new pro-Adenauer party.

The 16 bolters, including Vice Chancellor Franz Blucher and three other Cabinet members, assailed Dehler. He infuriated Adenauer by demanding a more independent West German foreign policy and direct talks with Moscow on German unity.

Stennis Asks Idlo Land Be Protected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Sen. Stenn's (D-Miss) today advocated that provision be made in the soil bank plan to protect idle land from deterioration.

He said in a statement that much cotton land is in areas of heavy rainfall and is subject to serious erosion.

"I believe that a very large percentage of the land taken out of production will remain idle and if a provision is not included in the farm bill which will equre at least minimum standards for conservation much of the land placed in the acreage reserve program will deteriorate," he said.

The Mississippian discussed the matter with Chairman Ellender (D-La) of the Senate Agriculture Committee yesterday during debate on the farm bill.
